

UMBRELLAS, LIPSTICK AND TOOTSIE TOYS AT INITIATION

Last Friday was initiation day at Newmarket high school. Many people wondered why teen agers were carrying umbrellas when it wasn't raining and pulling little toy cars with a string along Main St.; they were only poor grade nines being subjected to the rigid rules of initiation, laid down by their seniors. Left to right are first formers Audrey Gartshore, June Pender, Ed Holden, in front, Don McAlpine and Ray Curr. A dance was held at the school for the initiates in the evening.

127TH BATTALION TO PARADE ON REMEMBRANCE DAY

Members of the 127th Battalion association from Toronto will be visiting Newmarket on Sunday, Nov. 11, and will take part in the Remembrance Day service at Trinity United church.

A request has been made that all members of the Battalion association in the Newmarket district attend the service. The 127th men will meet at the Veterans' Dug-Out in the town hall at 10 a.m. Sunday and will proceed to the church for services at 11:10 a.m.

The battalion was organized in York County and mobilized in Newmarket in 1916. In that year the battalion marched from Newmarket to Kodak barracks on Weston Rd., stopping overnight at Aurora and Steel's Corners. It is now a part of the Queen's York Rangers.

FIRE DESTROYS COUNTRY HOME ON THIRD OF KING

Fire on Sunday afternoon destroyed the country home of Count Walter Bienkowski on the third concession of King, four miles north of the village of King.

There was no one in the house at the time of the fire. The owners had visited the house before noon and turned the water off for the winter, then left. Newmarket and Aurora fire brigades fought the blaze.

Furniture on the ground floor was carried out of the building by neighbors but they had to abandon their efforts when the fire spread rapidly from the back kitchen. Most of the furniture was made up of antiques 100 years old which the count had collected and refinished himself. The farmhouse also had been remodelled.

SPEED TRAPS SUBJECT AT NEXT LUNCHEON

Speed traps will be discussed at the next meeting of the Newmarket Businessmen's Association at the King George hotel on Monday, Nov. 10. Sixteen businessmen were present at the lunch last Monday. The association is an informal group of businessmen who meet the first and third Mondays of the month to discuss problems common to them all.

All Newmarket businessmen are invited to join the luncheon meetings. There are no fees or affiliations with national groups. The purpose of the association is simply to provide a means for businessmen to talk over their common problems. Luncheon is at 1 p.m. sharp, business at 1:30.

BASES TAX APPEAL ON SMOKE DAMAGE; SHIRTS POLKA-DOT

One appeal already has been filed for the consideration of Newmarket's court of revision. The appeal seeks a reduction in assessment on the grounds that property value had dropped because of the smoke nuisance.

A by-law to control the emission of smoke from chimneys has been considered by council but no action has been taken since last fall. Last Monday night Councilman Joe Dales said that he discovered he had polka-dot shirts instead of white ones. "We have moved over to Prospect St. and on one occasion I was delegated to bring in the washing from the line," he said. "I can really see now what this smoke does. My white shirts had turned to polka-dot ones."

URGES RESTRICTION ON SIGNS, AWNINGS

Councillor Charles VanZant questioned Newmarket council Monday night about a by-law restricting overhead signs and awnings on Main St.

"My boy was walking down the street the other day and got a terrible crack on the head when he bumped into an awning," he said. "He still has a bump on his head."

Reeve Arthur D. Evans said the proposal for a by-law has been put before council for years. The complaint against it, he said, was that council would be assuming responsibility for any liability through injuries if it passed the by-law. Otherwise it is not responsible, he said.

IN REMEMBRANCE

The bugles blow thro' the stars,
Across the skies right up to Mars.
No white crosses nor bowed head,
His glory shines upon our dead.
Their trumpets blast a victory,
Peace and honour in Eternity.

—DR. R. W. BREULS, SHARON

North Gwillimbury Council Agrees To Make Enquiry Into Illegal Road Closings

The North Gwillimbury township council, at the request of Mrs. Arlene Link, Island Grove, took action on Monday to open the question of seven roads on the Lake Simcoe shore at Roche's Point.

Mrs. Link claims that the roads were closed illegally and that buildings should be moved from them. She told council that the roads should be opened so that the public will have free access to the lake.

"I don't see why I should have to come here," she told the meeting at Belhaven hall on Monday afternoon. "I thought you would have noticed this situation before."

"There is only one thing to it," said Deputy-Reeve Lloyd Pollock. "Someone must have blundered badly in the past."

"There could be excellent parking spots on some of these roads if they were opened," Mrs. Link said. "I don't know how people could have built on the roads. I know my lawyer would not allow me to build on them unless it was at my own risk."

She told council that she believed that a county and provincial grant would be available to re-survey the subdivisions now overlapping the roads but Reeve Norman Doyle said that no funds had been definitely promised for surveys. He did say that the money had been "recommended by the department".

Reeve Doyle said that he did not believe that there was any property on the lake which could not be assessed. Later in the meeting Mrs. Link declared that the township assessor had made the statement that certain buildings could not be assessed because they were on roads.

"You just want to pass the buck," Mrs. Link told council. "You have money at your disposal to act," she said.

"It's not a matter of money. If those people are on roads, something has got to be done about it," said Mr. Pollock.

Council passed a motion by Deputy-Reeve Pollock that the matter of the roads "be referred to the planning board and to the solicitor". The planning board meets on November 16.

There was an act of parliament passed to protect the public and give them access to the lake. You can't close a road which ends on a river or a lake," Mrs. Link told council. "If those roads were opened, they would solve a terrible summer parking problem. In the summer, no one can find a place to park so they can go for a swim because everywhere else is private property," she said.

Deputy-Reeve Lloyd Pollock said that "someone in the past must have blundered badly." Council passed a motion that the "matter of the roads be referred to the planning board and to the solicitor." The township planning board holds its next meeting (Page 7, Col. 4)

MRS. LINK SAYS 'THAT'S A ROAD'

Mrs. Arlene Link, Island Grove, shows where Turner Ave. should be in Roche's Point. The road, once used by residents as an access to Lake Simcoe shore, has been closed illegally, she says. Now there is a house, lawn and tennis court in its place. She says the property is still legally a road and should be opened up to the public.

MAY SET UP OWN BLOOD BANK AT YORK COUNTY HOSP.

An investigation into the possibility of setting up a local blood bank was approved by the York County hospital medical staff at its recent monthly meeting. Although there have been promises of a blood bank service from the Red Cross, no service has been offered yet, so the staff has decided to try and set up its own bank.

The medical staff also favored improvements in obstetrical services pertaining to nurse assistance and equipment. The first item to be considered in the line of new equipment at the hospital is a delivery table.

It has been noted that the hospital is doing nearly double the work it did last year. The month of October this year showed 341 discharges compared to 242 last year. Last month there were 491 x-rays and 40 cests made, 100 minor operations and 30 major operations.

A clinical paper was given at the staff meeting by Dr. J. L. Urquhart and Dr. D. Hutchins, both of Aurora, on intrauterine hemorrhage.

Optimists Question Sports Sponsorship, Wider Program Urged

Sponsorship of boys' athletics to take in a wider variety of activities was discussed by the Optimist Club of Newmarket at a dinner meeting at the King George hotel on Tuesday evening. Some members of the club urged that athletic sponsorship not be confined to baseball and hockey teams only.

In a report by boys' work chairman, Don Warner, it was learned that some older Optimist clubs in Toronto had given up athletic sponsorship. Their reason was that too many youngsters "were always looking for something to be given to them on a silver platter".

The report prompted similar comments from club members. One member said that he thought there wasn't enough varied participation and too great an accent on competition and the sponsorship of winning "star" teams which involved transportation to distant towns.

Optimist Joe Dales suggested that the club introduce a more varied program. Basketball and tumbling, dramatics and arts and crafts were suggested activities in which members could provide leadership in small groups.

Optimist President Jack Hamilton said that the club would be sponsoring league hockey in town and that 90 boys would be participating in practices and games.

Optimists Dales and John Kudolka both stressed the fact that some youngsters do not play or want to play hockey and that it is possible that there are no organized activities in which they can take part.

The meeting marked the second anniversary of the club. A special birthday cake was cut and there was a special variety program. An agricultural film was shown by Don Warner and a demonstration on the amputation of a thumb was given by Optimists John Dales and Bob Birrell who were dressed in full regalia, including head lamps, for a major operation. Wray Playter was the patient and Red Eblechon was the assistant who looked after things after the operation.

Next week is International Optimist week. The club is making a special effort to promote the sale of tickets on a trip to Bermuda. It has also completed plans for the sale of Christmas trees in Newmarket. The Christmas tree lot will be located behind Trinity United church.

Farm Forum News

We are pleased to print reports of local farm forums but they should be sent as soon as possible to ensure early publication.—Editor.

Newmarket East farm forum discussed the subject "Are Co-ops Democratic?" at the meeting on Monday, Nov. 5, at the home of Mr. Sheldon Walker, Queensville.

Margaret E. Bales, R. R. Sharon, reports that the 12 people present felt that improvement might be made in the annual meeting by more enthusiasm on the part of all, and by more aggressive action by the chairman to limit the length of speeches.

Describing the organization of the local co-op, the forum reports that ordinary business is carried out by the directors, who are elected at the annual membership meeting, where any item of great importance is considered. Important business may also be dealt with at special meetings. The co-op advertises in the local paper and sends out annual reports to all members.

Forum members suggested that a quarterly news letter be issued to keep members better informed, and that co-op policy not be completely decided by the manager. It was felt that some members do not take an active enough part in the meetings.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. Herb Wright, Sharon, on Monday, Nov. 12, at 8:30 p.m.

This week Newmarket East co-op was the only forum to report. We welcome further reports, so why not follow Newmarket East's good example and send us in a copy of the secretary's report "Farm Forum Findings", after each meeting.

BE SURE TO GIVE YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS.

THIS IS OUR CHANCE TO BETTER OURSELVES.

—District 7, Toronto Milk Producers

I am appealing to the Electors of Muskoka-Ontario for your support in the forthcoming election because I believe in and stand FOR

A more liberal and progressive administration.

The Thomson Hospital Plan, because it is a step forward. It will help so many who are so desperately in need of assistance. It is only right that the well should care for the sick.

The rehabilitation of T.B. patients and for any legislation that is for the well-being of our citizens.

Amendments to the Highway Improvement Act. While this act affects only those living near highways, it is the thin edge of the wedge that would deprive our people of one of the fundamentals of British Justice, THE RIGHT TO APPEAL.

A change in the Liquor Control Act. I am strongly opposed to the opening of any more retail outlets. The Liquor situation is a problem to our thinking people and it is demoralizing our youth.

The acquiring of new industries for this riding. Industries that would give employment to our young people and help keep them with us. Industries that would supplement those we already have, namely, Tourist and Farming.

Our democratic way of life is our greatest possession. It has brought us so many fine things we enjoy today. May we keep on striving for better things so that those who follow may live in harmony and peace.

In the interest of good government, I solicit your vote on November 22nd.

Oak Ridges News
MRS. LAURA ROLLING, CORRESPONDENT, PHONE KING 1

Five people escaped minor injuries early Sunday morning when a 1938 Plymouth car going south on Yonge St. at Oak Ridges hit the rear of a sander truck owned by Miller Paving, Charles Bloor, 18, Toronto, driver of the car, claimed he could not properly see the rear lights of the truck. The vehicle, which was wrecked, was owned by his father. His passengers were two girls and two young men. They were taken to the office of Dr. Crawford Rose, Aurora.

Motorists at the Bond Lake curves, highway 11, kept tow trucks busy Sunday night because of the ice-coated surface of the highway. For two hours traffic was snarled at this point.

A community euchre, cribbage and bingo evening is being held tonight (Thursday) at Oak Ridges school in the interest of Bobby Dion, a grade 8 pupil who was injured in a bicycle and car accident early last week. Proceeds will be given to Bobby who is in Newmarket hospital where an operation on a fractured ankle was performed. The fund is intended to help finance the boy's hospitalization. He is getting along very well, Mrs. Dion states, although it is not yet known when he will leave the hospital.

Mrs. Jack Blythe has organized the event. Assisting her in selling tickets are Mrs. H. Hutchinson, Mrs. Alex Gallagher and Mrs. Bob Woolley, Jr. Eddie Wood, grocer, has donated a basket of groceries as a door prize and Alex Gallagher, a ham for a special draw. Those who have given games prizes are: Chas. Connor, Bill Fuller, of Oak Ridges. At Aurora were: Wilson's Hardware, Osborne's Clothing, Ardill's Store, Hess Drug Store, Morning's Drug Store, Fisher's 5c to $1 store. Clarke Archibald made the tickets.

Bobby has received numerous cards and bouquets of flowers. The Sunshine Sunday school of Oak Ridges sent flowers with an accompanying card containing the names of the school.

Discuss Extra Classroom

At a meeting of S. S. 13 school board, Lake Wilcox, at the school on Monday night, a discussion regarding provision of additional classroom accommodation was gone over quite thoroughly but no definite decision was reached. Inspector O. M. McKillop and Herbert Horner, the architect, were present. The new four-room building is not large enough to house between 210 and 220 students which are likely to be enrolled. Around 40 have been out of school from sickness, and still a class has to be accommodated in the hall. With 180 children attending and more to come, the board realizes the situation demands immediate attention. It was pointed out that another room could be added to the building. In the absence of A. E. Patchell, trustee Lynn presided.

Open house was held for parents of students attending the Lake school last Thursday night, and appreciation for the excellence of the new school was voiced by ratepayers.

Pipes have been procured to proceed with installation of water. A well will be drilled by a contractor.

While the temperature hovered around 8 and 10 degrees above zero on Monday evening, a fair sized crowd attended Oak

Bring Top Guernseys To District Farms

Ontario Guernsey Breeders are determined to have the best breeding available brought into Canada. At a recent sale at Franchester Farm, West Salem, Ohio, Jack Fraser, owner of Fraserdale Farm, Concord, and C. F. W. Burns, owner of Kingfield Farm, King, brought four of the best cows to Ontario. McDonald Farms High Maine and McDonald Farms D. Kathryn were purchased by Mr. Fraser at $3,500 and $3,400 respectively.

Mr. Burns purchased McDonald Farms Supreme Levis and Murch's Butterfat Ellen at $2,000 each. The pedigree of all four cows is rich in inheritance for production and type and should add to the already high quality of both these herds.

News of NEWMARKET LEGION

This Saturday, Nov. 10, is Poppy Day across the Dominion. It was at a meeting at Port Arthur, in July, 1921, that a motion was moved and seconded: "That this conference hereby approves the proposal that the citizens of this Dominion of Canada accept the poppy as its flower of remembrance, and recommend that the poppy be worn on the anniversary of Armistice Day."

The first poppies in Canada were made by women and children of France. The next year, however, the poppies that were sold on the streets of our towns and cities were made by disabled Canadian veterans, who understood only too well their significance. Each year the sale has steadily increased, until last year over four million poppies were worn by Canadians.

Through the Canadian Legion national poppy campaign, this symbol has come to stand for more than mere remembrance of the dead. In the hands of this organization it has come to mean a source of solace in time of trouble, and hope for the future. It has been a source of useful employment for disabled veterans, both in the Veterans shops and in the homes of those unable to stand the strain of regular employment. This year we know that with the splendid spirit of the Legionnaires who are working on this committee, and the splendid spirit of our citizens shown to us in so many ways in the past, we will go over the top again in our own town, as well as across Canada.

This Friday night, the Big Variety and Amateur Show will take place in the town hall. Naturally, we endeavor not to operate at a loss; but expenses incurred were such that we now depend on a full house to recompense us. However, we are providing a splendid program, and we know everyone attending will have an evening's entertainment they will long remember. All members are urged to obtain tickets for the show. Tickets are on sale at Best's Drug Store.

On Sunday, all veterans of this community, regardless of affiliations, are requested to attend our Remembrance Day parade and service. Dress will be berets and medals. Other particulars can be obtained by contacting Comrade A. Scythes, or any Legion member.

Elphinstone Re-Elected
Veterans President

At the annual meeting of the Newmarket Veterans' Ass'n, Canadian Corps Branch 119, Alf. Elphinstone was re-elected for the third term as president.

Arthur D. Evans reported on the Canadian Corps convention, Ontario Command, held recently in Niagara Falls. Mr. Evans and Albert Linden were again elected as directors of the Corps Ass'n at the convention.

The following officers were elected: president, A. Elphinstone; 1st vice, Joe Gladman; 2nd vice, Art Lee; sec., H. Fletcher; treas., A. D. Evans; rec. sec., W. Shropshire; chaplain, Rev. M. J. Aiken; welfare, Ted Mitchell; membership, W. Blight; ways and means, J. Wright; property, M. Rowsom, G. Cable, W. Hillaby; Memorial, F. Kents, A. Smith, J. Wright; pensions, A. D. Evans, A. Linden, B. Ward; social, K. Hugo, W. Blight; sergt.-at-arms, Jack Macdonald; publicity, Art Lee.

Meetings of the Newmarket Veterans' Ass'n are held on Wednesday evening in the new Dug Out in the town hall. The Vets have a very comfortable quarters now with all facilities and conveniences and they are looking forward to a year of activity.

The Newmarket Vets' Ass'n will join with the Canadian Legion branch for the annual Armistice service to be held at Trinity United church on Sunday, Nov. 11, at 11 a.m. All Vets are asked to fall in at the Dug Out at 10.30, dress, berets and medals.

IN MEMORIAM

Fairbairn—In loving memory of my dear father, George Fairbairn, who passed away Nov. 5, 1930; and my dear mother Isabella Fairbairn, who passed away Nov. 10, 1940. In memory's garden we meet every day. Ever remembered by daughter Rosa.

Leopard—In loving memory of my dear husband, Chas. Leopard, who passed away Nov. 10, 1943. Gone from me but leaving memories.

Death can never take away. Memories that will always linger. While upon this earth I stay. Looking back with tenderness. O'er the years we tread. I bless the years spent with him. And leave this rest to God. Ever remembered by his wife.

Liscomb—In loving memory of a darling daughter, Joan Liscomb, who passed away November 7, 1944. It's only a wonderful journey. From the old world to the new. Where golden gates have opened wide.

To let my loved one through. And there with just the same glad smile. And the heart I cherished so. My Joanne waits until we meet. In the land where loved ones go. Always remembered by mother.

Liscomb—In loving memory of a dear sister, Joan E. Liscomb, who passed away November 7, 1944. God needed a new star in Heaven. A new light to shine. So out of this old world of sorrow. He picked that dear sister of mine.

Sadly missed and ever remembered by sister Joyce and brother-in-law George.

Smart—In loving memory of a dear father, George Elsworth Smart, who passed away October 31, 1945. I have only your memory, dear father. To remember my whole life through.

But the sweetness will linger forever. As I treasure the image of you. Sadly missed and ever remembered by son George and daughter-in-law Joyce.

White—In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, Fred White, who passed away Nov. 11, 1950. Memory often wanders as twilight shadows fall. Back to the days of happiness. Days beyond recall. And a vision comes before us.

So calm, so dear, so sweet of those lips that are now silent; Whose lips are closed in sleep. Sadly missed by Claude, Jean and grandson.

White—In loving memory of our dear nephew and cousin, Billy White, who died Nov. 3, 1950. A little lamb, too sweet and pure Upon this earth to roam; An angel came And took the dear child home. Lovingly remembered by Uncle Gordon, Aunt Dorothy, and cousins.

House owned by Mrs. Edmund Boyd at Roche's Point is said to be straddled across Boucher Rd. which crosses Roche's Point's main street, Curly St. House was moved there in 1947; the lake is a few hundred feet in front of it. At one time the road gave a clear access to the lake from inland areas of the township.

HISTORICAL ROADS

H. G. Mogg, who is re-assessing the entire township this year, said yesterday that there are houses built on the roads and they cannot be assessed for that reason.

One house, owned by Mrs. Edmund Boyd, was moved in 1947 and placed directly across the centre of a street, blocking access to the lake. It is on Boucher Ave. which runs perpendicular to Roche's Point's main thoroughfare, Curly St.

When Governor Simcoe first opened up the district, he intended Roche's Point to become the capital of Upper Canada. It has been written that he wanted a capital which would be far enough away from the Americans or protection, yet convenient to natural waterways transportation.

On Turner Ave., a fence, house, lawn and tennis court stand where a road used to be. Mrs. Link says it was closed illegally in 1926, without a by-law passed by council.

"According to the act, it can't be done legally anyway," she said.

St. Andrew's Gives

Call to Rev. Meredith

At a representative congregational meeting held in the church hall on Monday night, the members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket, issued a unanimous call to the Rev. T. R. Meredith of Bowmanville. Mr. Meredith, should he accept the call, will come to Newmarket well recommended, as he has held charges in Halifax, Montreal, Renfrew, and is now at Bowmanville. In all these congregations he has done excellent work as pastor, organizer and preacher.

He has been moderator of the Naramachi presbytery in New Brunswick and has also been moderator of the presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew in Ontario. In both he proved himself a capable leader.

Mrs. Meredith has the reputation of being a kindly, warm-hearted "mistress of the manse" and "given to hospitality." She has been president of the Naramachi presbytery of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and held a similar office in the presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew.

Their only son, Flying Officer Frederick Leonard Meredith, originally with the R.C.A.F., and afterwards transferred to the R.A.F., was killed in action in the last war whilst engaged in an operational flight over a district near Munich, in Bavaria, Germany.

Handcrafters Show Work For Community Bazaar

By Caroline Ion
Women's Editor

The softest, blue baby blanket woven with a silvertwist thread and bound in matching satin ribbon; an adjustable shoulder bag with its accompanying belt (there was even a tiny pocket in the belt) done in the hound's tooth pattern; prize winning men's white scarves; these and many other pieces of handwork will be available to the purchasing public at the Newmarket Community Bazaar on Wednesday, Nov. 14.

A preview of the Newmarket Handcraft group's current work was held on Monday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. E. A. Mitchell. The group is working feverishly to complete the arrangements for the third annual Community Bazaar which will be held under its sponsorship next week.

"Bigger and better than last year's," is the claim made for the bazaar. More groups are having booths and an excellent display of hand work is expected.

With the exception of the Aurora members of the Handcraft group, all the ladies were present for the preview of crafts, each with a few representative items of her own work. To the group have come several new members. Mrs. Douglas Bales, a former member of the Spinners and Weavers, Toronto, has been weaving for five years. It was her baby blanket we described earlier. They are also available in pink and white.

Mrs. Fred Hughes is a comparative new comer as is Mrs. Arthur Davies. But, these ladies, like the other members of the group, have been bitten by the weaving bug. They seem to be enjoying themselves most when following their favorite hobby. It is also indicative of the excellent spirit in the group that each of the original weavers who took the provincial department's course in weaving has herself a pupil to her credit. And, as one of the charter members said, "In many cases, they have passed their teachers long ago."

Esther McGee had a woven tea cosy with its matching egg cosy, attractive additions to any breakfast table. With the ensemble was the apron to wear while preparing the meal. They were in a soft pink with contrasting trim of blue and red threads in a novel design. Another of her aprons, again in pink, displayed some very fine Swedish weaving. We would class it as a "hostess" apron. Not one on which to wipe one's floury hands when answering the phone, or do you do that?

Mrs. S. W. Otton also had some exquisitely woven aprons. One bags, blue with silver and black with gold and silver were among this weaver's fine display.

Mrs. E. A. Mitchell has a large assortment of evening bags in brown with bronze, or black corde silver and gold. Drapery material in multi-colored stripes will be displayed by Mrs. Mitchell. Most of the weavers have had suits tailored from material woven on their own looms.

The last contributor whose work we saw Monday evening, was Mrs. N. L. Mathews. She had bright, colored sport belts which had been done on the Inkle Loom. Straw flower center pieces, woven paper book marks, shell brie-a-brac, jewelry cases, ash trays and other handwork will be included among her work.

TRAVEL SHOW COMING

The Beatty travel show, a large tractor trailer display caravan, will be in Newmarket on Friday, Nov. 16. The show features the operation of modern washing and ironing equipment for the home. There will be a show for the public between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. in front of Spillette's store on Main St. A demonstration has also been offered to the domestic sciences classes at Newmarket high school.

—Miss Ruth Orvis left on Wednesday for a holiday in Nassau. She is going by plane.

KETTLEBY

The W. A. of the Kettleby United church met at the home of Mrs. A. McCluskie on Tuesday evening, Oct. 30, with the vice-president, Mrs. C. Black, presiding. She was assisted in the worship period by Mrs. R. Jewitt, Mrs. M. Cook and Mrs. J. Lepard. Final plans were made for the bazaar and afternoon tea which will be held in the church hall Saturday, Nov. 10. With all the beautiful handwork which has come in, it should be the ideal place to do one's Christmas shopping.

Mrs. Ray Marshall had the topic and entitled her talk "The Peril of Riches." She used the findings of Dr. Muchmore as the authority for her remarks. She said that "The North American continent has one-tenth of the population of the world and produces one half of the world's goods." She said "Western Europe fears the North American continent almost as much as she does Russia, not for our aggression of war but for our aggression in the commercial field, and for our smug, self-satisfied air which always accompanies a people who have not suffered hunger or want or the vigors of war."

Mrs. Marshall also gave us a very interesting account of a trip to Kirkland Lake, which was enjoyed by all present.

MEN AND MISSIONS SUNDAY

A special Men and Missions service will be held in the Free Methodist church on Sunday, Nov. 11, at 11 a.m. Special emphasis on the world-wide theme, "Christ or Chaos," will be given. Special singing.

EVANGELINE AUXILIARY

The Evangeline auxiliary of the W.M.S., Trinity United church, Newmarket, will meet in the school room on Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 8 o'clock. Miss E. Roberts will conduct the devotional period. Mrs. Blanche Morton will review a chapter of the study book, "From Lakes to Northern Lights." All ladies of the congregation are welcome.

—Mr. R. Huntley left on a two-weeks hunting trip Saturday to Pickering River.

"MOST GENTLEMANLY"

As an added incentive, if it's necessary, to act like a little gentleman in the Newmarket & District Hockey League scraps, Ray Smith, proprietor of the Newmarket Sports and Cycle Shop, who also doubles as league president, has offered a trophy for the league's most gentlemanly player. As yet the selection committee hasn't been named but in all probability will include managers or coaches of the four participating team.

AURORA TOWN LEAGUE

The opening date of the Aurora Town League hasn't been set as yet, reports president Jim Murray. The four teams will stage another practice session tomorrow, Friday, night at the arena. The schedule makers are expected to go into a huddle in the near future to set an opening night. Present plans are to take a full evening at the arena with a ladies hockey match as preliminary to the town league double-header attraction.

Spits Outplayed Twice By Conditioned Clippers

Newmarket Spitfires got into action last week when they hit the ice against Stouffville Clippers in a pair of home and home tilts. Al Shewchuk's hopefuls absorbed a 12-3 pasting here and despite an improved Saturday show in Stouffville, were measured for a 9-3 loss.

The result was anticipated. The Spits had only five practices under their belts while Bob Bangay's well-provisioned roster has been under rigid drill for over a month. The game here drew 350 payees and 350 in Stouffville.

The Spits were measured for 6-0 trailer roles early here before Don Smith broke through late in the second period. Spits fortunes swung upward early in the third as Russ Forfar tipped in a Jack Andrews' pass and a minute later Bill Patrick, an Aurora ex, rifled in a Myles McInnis pass. Then the Spits ran out of gallop and wind and the Clippers hit for six more goals to make it a runaway. Polly Minton spearheaded the Clippers with three goals.

In the Saturday tilt, Spits' snap, crackle, pop didn't become evident until the final round. In that period, they outscored the Clippers 2-1 on goals by Don Gibson and Bill Johnston. The rally fell far short of damaging Clippers' reputation as the Bangaymen had spurred into an 8-1 lead. They beat down Joe Tunney's defenses for four in round one and meted out the same treatment to Jimmy Cook, subbing for Joe, in round two.

Al Shewchuk pulled the string on his specialty, a blue-line sizzler, after accepting a pass from Bill Johnston to set the Spits up in the scoring business. Forwards Swiftly Todd and Normie Legge made only brief appearances.

Spitties' goal, J. Tunney. W. Grant, J. Cook; defensemen, A. Shewchuk, J. Andrews, W. McGhee, F. Tunstead, K. Broughton; forwards, L. Thoms, D. Gibson, G. Firth, W. Johnston, N. Legge, D. Smith, W. Patrick, K. Thoms, R. Forfar.

Hisey's, Newmarket Dairy, Meteors, Combines, Legion and Metal Workers divided the spoils two points each.

Top-notch scores turned in last week in Davis Leather circuit. Art Flanagan was the pin-point deluxe with 728 (355-215-58). Other high three games were Ken Bennington 702 (201-223-218), Len. Burling 693, Geo. Ingledew 656, Gord Billings 631. Bennington's and Tansley's sixes picked up 5-2 wins over Bothwell's and Cullen's shooters. League standing, Bothwell 34, Bennington 31, Cullen 26, Tansley 21.

Three sharpshooters beat 600 in last week's Hoffman League action. Top man was Frank Vandenberg with a 636, followed by Bill VanZant 620, "Squeak" Daniels 615. Machine Shop held to first place with a 5-2 win over Press Shop. Vardorf moved up with a 5-2 victory over Sheet Metal. Standing: Machine Shop 30, Sheet Metal 25, Press Shop 22, Vardorf 21.

Roy Bennett set the pace in the Office Specialty Officemen's

League last week with a 649 (196-206-247). Other three game highs were recorded by Don Burch 606 (131-225-250) and Bert Seldon 604 (235-186-183). Francis McFarland's and Ernie Bennett's team are tied for the lead and Lou Bovair's side is in the runner-up slot.

The three team Ladies' Lawn Bowling League has posted some fine early season scores. Flo Reilly heads the list with a 690 (193-240-263). Other "big gun" scores were turned in by Lil Watt 651 (174-206-271), Peg. Graham 594, Ann Osborne 592, M. G. Brammer 526. Flo Reilly's Streaks are league leaders with 9 points, Sylvia Carter's Hopefuls 5, Grace Doyle's Trailers with 2. League president is Goldie Macnab, secretary, Viv. Gibson, treas., Lil Watt.

Hazel Bennett registered a 550 to lead the Thursday night ladies' league. Other fine scores were Olive Hughes 528, Molly Randall 520, Marie McCabe 525, Myrt Dunn 512.

Mike Tobias led the Bradford Men's League last week with a 732. Other top three game scorers were Steve Simone 677, Norm. Collings 681, Ted Devlin 647, Joe Magane 641, Bert Yeoman 638, Geo. Wardman 600.

Frank Vandenberg with an 827 three game mark (272-246-309) and Arva Thoms with a 628 (207-178-243) have the inside track on the clock bowling trophies at the Brown-Drymer North End Alleys. The clock competition is open to the end of the year. Come on you bowlers; see if you can beat the above.

Steve Simone, a Bradford League bowler, recently clipped off a 903 (351-267-300) to head the scoring marks at the North End alleys. A good mark — can anybody beat it?

HASHMAN AWARD

For The Coach

Hardly weather to be talking about baseball but your Hashman still finds a few items kicking around needing attention. Over the past season our Optimist pee-wee baseballers fought their way into the Ontario finals a first time for a Newmarket team.

Jack Hamilton, Optimist president, officially closed the baseball books on this note last week: "We're naturally proud of our pee-wees and the splendid coaching job done by Frank Hollingsworth."

Your Hashman seconds that one, and one and all are heartily in accord. Taking our cue from prexy Hamilton's remarks, we're naming Frank Hollingsworth for the Hashman award this week and the Roxy Theatre pass.

Hunters Pull Out

A large contingent of Newmarket hunters have gone north as the deer hunting season rolls into full swing.

The Falcon Hunt Club was one of the first to shove off with Bert Morrison, Frank Johnston, Les. Boynton, Harry Richardson the Newmarket members. Percy Richmond (Keswick) and Dr. G. MacPherson of Mount Albert round out the party. The club hunts in the Bayswater district, north of the French River.

Another band of well known nimrods operating in the Burk's Falls district are Harry Landry, Don Wright, Nels Shanks, Bob Bunn, Ivan Daniels (Aurora) and Walt Hurst (Jersey).

E. J. Davis Jr. is with the Horse Shoe Hunt Club in the Dwight area. This club has been making the annual trek north for over 25 years. Elmer Davis (Kingston) and Heber Little (Guelph) complete the party.

Luke Lyons and his two sons, Aubrey (Penelon Falls) and Marshall (Scarboro), are with the Proctor Hunt Club at Portlock in the Sudbury district.

Joe Woodcock, Stewart Martin and Roy Church are operating in the woods near Graven-hurst. Bert and Howard Peterman expect to join them for final days of the hunt.

Another band of Newmarket hunters hoping to bring their bag of deer out of woods near Pembroke are John Victor, Vic Giovannelli, Andy Gatti and Steve Kapask and John Valentine from the Holland Marsh.

Aurora Hunt Club boasts a number of district shots: Dick Ruppe, Murray Tansley, Harry Slickwood, Ed. Dickson of Newmarket, Frank Griffiths (Aurora), Jack Kavanagh and Ang. Smith of Queensville.

Russell Broadbent is with the Peterboro Hunt Club north of Peterboro. Clarence Slickwood is with Stouffville Gun Club at Hawk Lake, Haliburton. Alex Hand is hunting in the Parry Sound district.

Several Newmarket and district hunters will shove off this weekend with Lost Dog Club to hunt in the Eau Claire district. They are Charlie Harman, Kenman, Jack Church, Errol Gould, Dr. S. J. Boyd, Bill Curtis and Russell Curtis of Bradford.

A.H.S. Gridders Split Wins

Frank Gregoire's Aurora High gridiron machine boasted a win and a loss over the past week. The seniors, visiting Toronto for a test of strength with St. Mike's seconds, came up with a show of power to gain a crashing 20-6 triumph.

Back-field speedster Ron. Geddes on an end sweep, and kicking half Don. Busby on an off tackle play gave the Gregoiremen an early advantage. Aurora raised the game out of the doubtful category with a pair of touchdown strikes after St. Mike's fumbled near the mid-field stripe. Norm. Ethridge and Don. Busby outracing St. Mike's would-be tacklers for the major scores.

Aurora seconds were spilled 22-10 by a combined St. Andrew's second and third team squad. Bruce Wray and Bill McGirr struck for the Aurora TD's.

Aurora seniors: D. Harrison, L. Easterbrook, D. Busby, C. Delahay, J. Langdon, B. Andrews, D. Bachly, J. Gilbert, T. Hulme, J. Hovey, G. Hatley, R. Geddes, K. Kincaid, P. VanNosttrand, G. Edwards, T. McClenney, J. Richard, R. Starkey, B. Wray, B. McGirr, N. Ethridge, J. Crysdale, D. Morning.

Aurora seconds: G. Edwards, N. Ethridge, T. McClenney, D. Hoshel, R. Starkey, B. McGirr, B. Wray, K. Kincaid, R. Geddes, D. Morning, E. Kusman, J. Crysdale, P. VanNosttrand, B. Brown, J. Urquhart, R. Knowles, S. Wilson.

Spits Get New Look

The Spitfires, when they hit the regular schedule, will be turned out in new colors, reports Manager Mickey Smith. The new look will be white sweaters trimmed with blue and red. The sweaters are now on order and delivery is expected in time for the regular season opener.

The Spits executive were planning an exhibition game for tonight (Thursday) but to date haven't been able to secure opposition. Smith contacted Gravenhurst, Bracebridge, Milton, Alliston, Orangeville, Oakville and Brampton but without success. All the teams reported not ready as yet for exhibition contests.

It is hoped to line up Georgetown for a game next Thursday.

Town League Opens

Town "Regents" and Mount Albert were first night winners Monday in the Newmarket and District Hockey League. The Regents, sparked by a two-goal show by Bob "Hardwara" Smith and one-goal, two-assist sharpshooting by "Murphy" Jolley, knocked off Harold Craddock's Office Specialty 3-1 in the early affray. A three-way passing play by Barney Pearson, "Mott" Thoms and Stan Gibbons accounted for the Specialty marker with Barney doing the actual potting.

Doug Ross' late third period tally that cracked a 5 all stalemate gave Mount Albert a 6-5 decision over Harry Lavender's Vandorfers. It was Doug Ross' third tally of the night. Elmo Paisley, Pete Swartzman, and Bob Stokes were the other Mounties on target. Pivotalman Clem Eilas topped the Vandorf marksmen with two, Alb. Jones, Bun Hood and Jim Preston with one.

Ross Draper drew two minor stretches and a 10 minute misconduct for over talking a decision with referee Lonnie Doolittle.

HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

Spits incorporated, if you'll pardon a little experting, appear to have two galloping front liners who can nail the biscuit to the rigging, away from taking care of anything Eddie Bush's maulers out of Collingwood have to offer.

That kiddies, taking care of the Bushmen, must be the target for this term if the Spits are going down the pay-off play-off trail. Clipper tests were tough ones and a pair of defeats to Bob Bangay's over-stocked, well-cushioned shoot and skate brigade is no reflection on Shewie's men.

Clippers have been at it a month or more; the Spits approximately ten days. Spits will improve vastly as Al Shewchuk moulds his lines, but the fact remains, we aren't blessed with an abundance of reserve strength.

The question the Spits' executive faces is where to get those biscuit toters who can rap in goals. They're hemmed in southwards at Bond Lake—Spits can't draw from there without forfeiting their intermediate A status and supposed Barrie players have apparently sprung northward to the closer proximity of Orillia senior B entrant.

Stouffville, situated in the metropolitan area, is in a fortunate position—they can draw from Toronto and have speared at least one defenseman, Ross Hochberg, from non-metropolitan area. The latter normally, if

Lake Simcoe All-Stars

All the votes are in and the ballots counted. Here's what the coaches agree is the Lake Simcoe Softball League all-star team.

Ches. Lunney's Zephyr "Blues", twice crowned champions, placed four on the coaches' "dream team", Keswick and Hope two each, Queensville one, Pine Orchard one. Ron Kester, Zephyr's side-wheeling right hander topped the poll drawing a first place vote from every coach. Clarkson Arnold, Blues' hard hitting outfielder, ranked second and Cliff Ward, Hope's veteran second sacker was third choice.

A tight race developed for the second team first base job, Don Trivett and Bernard Kay finished in a dead heat. The same was true of short-stopping position with Alan Lockie and Judd Rutledge levelling off at nine points each. Thirteen players figured in the voting for outfield berths. The six that topped the poll:

FIRST TEAM	POSITION	SECOND TEAM
Ken Hodgins (Kes) (19)	Catcher	Ted Anderson (W.B.) (9)
Ron Kester (Zep) (37)	Pitcher	Harold Smith (Kes) (3)

Aurora Gets New Rec. Director

Perry E. Perryman, who by virtue of his initials if nothing else gets the nickname "Pop", has been appointed recreation director and arena manager at Aurora, and has assumed his duties. Mr. Perryman comes to Aurora from Abitibi Canyon and Fort William where he has been engaged in recreation work. For 15 years, he has been a Y.M.C.A. employee, and as such is particularly suited for group games, handball, swimming, boxing, (he's an ex-Toronto V champion), and the like.

"Pop" was introduced to Aurora council on Monday night. Married, and in the mid 40's, he has a quiet, likable personality, and Commission Chairman Dan. Glass feels they have made a fine choice. Fortunately for Mr. Perryman and all concerned, youthful Bill Mundell, who has been assistant and arena manager, and has filled Tom Dickson's shoes capably since Tom departed to Aylmer, will remain on the job. Bill knows all the ice problems at the arena, has the contacts, and of course, so far as minor hockey, minor basketball and all the rest of active sports has done a swell job. Loyalty of this type should be rewarded and doubtless Bill, who has done everything asked of him, and lacks only age, will be offered a post after year or two. There are many who would have liked to see Bill promoted to the post, but he has it as it may, it looks as if things are going to work out smoothly. Mundell, incidentally, has just about made his mind up to quit hockey as an active player which means he won't be with Newmarket Spitfires.

Aurora was the meeting place last Saturday of the Ontario Canadian Legion Sports Council. Mayor Alex. Bell personally played host at Graystones to the 10 representatives who came from as far away as Sudbury, London and Ottawa, under chairman Charles Gooch of St. Catharines. Punch Broadbent of Ottawa, former N.H.L. great of yesteryear with Ottawa Senators and Montreal Maroons, was one of the visitors. The reports filed showed a growing agenda of Legion-sponsored sports and recreation. Darts, bowling, billiards, smooching, bridge and orribles are competing for on a provincial level with Windsor, Oakville, Toronto and Hespler being chosen as pivot points for the finals.

You vets who are interested in these sports are missing a real bet by not joining your local Legion, and getting a team organized. Softball in three series saw Toronto taking soccer honors. In the field on minor sports it was noted that Petrolia, co-quorers of Newmarket in the O.H.A. bantams, were champs. Kirkland Lake won the N.O.S.A. juvenile honors, and over 100 minor sports teams were sponsored by Legion branches. In hockey this year, Barrie has eight teams, St. Catharines 12, and so the story goes. The Legion has established an enviable record of service in the field on minor sports of all types.

Lindsay Kins, under Red Mitchell, and Unionville Jets under Bob Lawrie have been having a pre-season series with both teams scoring a win on their home ice. Unionville have only five players back from last season, while Mitchell has four players who played against Aurora in 1950, plus Junior West of Orono, Smith and MacDonald of Newmarket, and a host of good looking prospects sent by Eddie Shore. Goal appears to be a real problem.

Audie Closs and Charlie Rowntree are anxious to try out this year's Aurora club and overtures for games are being made by Lindsay, Unionville, Orillia and Nobleton. There may be a game soon.

Tommy Brodie is having U.S. visa trouble which he hopes to straighten out soon, thereby enabling him to join Evelyn of the new northern American circuit.

Murray Brandon, who jumped Aurora Indians last winter to Eagle River, is still located there, and is an apprentice plumber in his spare time. Fat Mike, former Aurora hockeyist who played for Thorold against Aurora, is taking a hotel course with the C.P.R. and the past summer was at Hanft. Terry Moechi, top scorer of the district mercantile circuit, in 1948 with Newmarket Camp, is burning up the ice with Soo Greyhounds this year.

Bill Thoms will be back in action again in the T.H.L. mercantile series at Varsity arena. Spits might have added a real attraction there. After all, he's a home-town boy. Quite a few Familiar Faces at Varsity this year. There's John Sullivan, former Richmond Hill junior; Ross Johnston, Etobicoke Jrs. of '41, and Toronto Leafs; Doug Williams, top performer with Bowmanville midgets of '48; Gord. Ecclestone, Les. Digby, Blair Jarvis of the '51 Toronto Eclipse entry; Frankie Hughes, Aurora area, and would be eligible for Spitfires; Joe Saab, star of the Brampton Camp team of '48, and there's others, too, that are equally well known. The Varsity mercantile circuit is still the place to be, and there's no doubt about it.

AURORA APPOINTS NEW REC. DIRECTOR

Mr. P. E. Perryment has received the appointment of recreation director and arena manager in succession to Mr. Tom Dickson, and has commenced duties in these capacities. His wide experience and very agreeable personal qualities should commend him immediately to the citizens of Aurora. He is married and has two children, a girl aged 12 and a boy of 5. Mr. Perryment is also personally deeply interested in recreational and girls' organizations.

As director, Mr. Perryment will have full supervision of the rink and will work with service clubs, welfare and youth organizations, and other agencies and clubs interested in the promotion of good, clean, wholesome fun and recreation. ## WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Assessment Breakdown Shows Companies Made 24 Appeals Appoint Recreation Director

There were 39 appeals against Assessor E. R. Good's rulings, heard at the Court of Revision hearings in the council chambers on Monday night, Oct. 29. We did not have the list in our possession when we briefly reported the proceedings in our last week's issue. Since then we have been supplied with a copy of the list, and an analysis of the same gives some very interesting results.

Of the 39 appeals, Reeve A. A. Cook submitted five; Mr. Lorne Cousins, six; the Sisman Shoe Co., four. These account for 15 appeals, and added to these were the Collis Leather Co., the Aurora Milling Co., B. A. Oil Co., Factory Equipment, Hart Manufacturing Co., Imperial Bank of Canada, Inner Spring Mattress Co., Queen City Storage and the Royal Theatre.

The breakdown shows that only 14 private individuals, including Mr. R. H. Corner, who appealed on his home property and office accommodation, challenged the assessor's rulings, and of these 14 personal claims most were of a very minor character. It is apparent that the great majority of the taxpayers were satisfied with their assessments. Not only so, but apart from the appeals by the reeve of the town, and a few of the industrial employers, the town merchants, like the mass of the home-owners, were content to abide by the assessor's conclusions. Other substantial employers of labor were similarly-minded.

Needed A "Going-Over"

These impressions are quite impartial. We hold no brief for Assessor Good, nor for anyone else concerned with these proceedings. The chief impression gained by us during the four hours' "grilling" of the assessor was that he held his own on every count. He returned what he received with interest. He impressed us as a man who knew his job from A to Z.

So chain-like in character were the attacks on the assessor that it seemed as though the "Big Boys" of industry had resolved to gang up on him. Some things were said that, in our view, would have been better left unsaid. One of these was the charge of "arrogance" made against the assessor by Mr. Ross Linton. If to defend one's decisions with spirit and knowledge is "arrogance", then Mr. Good was arrogant.

But it seemed that Mr. Linton thought the assessor was arrogant because he had not sought the advice of the council as the assessments were being made. That would have been an entirely wrong thing to do. Assessors must act independently, seeking no guidance from anyone but following instructions laid down by the Municipal Board. Such close adherence to official instructions appears to have been rated as a fault against Mr. Good. The fact is, however, that it was not a fault but a merit.

The assessor impressed us as an able man trying to do a difficult job, and, by and large, making a success of it. We know several instances of heavy additional assessments, but those who will bear the burden have not grumbled or made a fuss, being satisfied with the explanations given them by the assessor.

It became quite apparent during the hearings that some industries in Aurora needed a "going-over". It might hurt; but the treatment was necessary if some degree of equalization is to be attained.

Are These Things True?

In the office the other day an Aurora old-timer charged that his home-town had the worst record in his experience for failure to keep appointments on time, and sometimes the appointments are never kept at all, with no explanations or apologies tendered. Public meetings, he said, never got underway on time, often being as much as an hour late in starting.

"There's nothing I hate more," he went on, "than for anyone to make an appointment with me and fail to keep it on time. In the first place, it's damned bad manners; and in the second place it's bad business. What confidence can you have in anybody who fails to live up to his promises? If he won't keep up an appointment, ten to one he'll fall down on everything else. Put that in your paper and see if it brings any reactions?"

Well, we are never hesitant to put opinions into this column. So there you have it; Aurora has a bad record for time-keeping and punctual appointments.

We must add our own quota. We detest having to wait for the keeping of an appointment. When we make appointments we always try and fulfil them. We agree that it is bad manners to be late for appointments. And we also agree that manners maketh the man.

As You Were.

We hear expressions of regret that the presidency of the Board of Trade remains unchanged, on the grounds that new leadership could have given a new impetus to that body which, in recent months, has been rather comatose. Meetings were too few and discussion too stultified. That is what some people are saying.

If the Aurora Board of Trade is to serve any useful purpose to the town it will have to get away from fat dinners, obese platitudes, and ceremonial compliments. The belly is important, but the mind should not become sluggish and inept. There should be energy, new ideas, and the will to go ahead in the Board of Trade meetings. The same speakers should not rap on every time. There should be dynamic discussion in which all members should play their part.

It is questionable whether the general manager of a major industry should hold the office of president. There are many merchants in town who could fill the job. And there should be nominations from the floor of the house, not a cut-and-dried parade of names submitted by a committee. The presidency of such an organization should move around. When such an office is held by the same man year after year there is a danger of mental stalemata, and

EDITORIALS

MEN WE NEED

One thing we don't want in our municipal government is politics. It does not matter to us whether a candidate is a Liberal or a Conservative. If he appears to us to have the qualifications to serve the town as a member of council, the hydro or the public school board, these columns will give him the fullest support.

The council is the chief executive authority in the municipality. Its work is strictly non-political. Candidates seeking office would not receive our support if they appealed on a Liberal or Conservative ticket. We will support candidates only for the reason that they appear to us qualified to do a good job of work for the town as a whole.

The men we need should have definite ideas on the reasons why they seek office. Men who sit and say nothing can be of no service to this town. They must be vocal, and being vocal have something constructive to say. Constructive ideas are begotten of knowing the job that one has on hand. We have seen too many negative results from the present council as a consequence of certain members not knowing what they wanted to do.

In some instances a complete change-about has happened over important town matters. To vote "yes" at one council meeting, and "no" at another, on a matter of outstanding importance to the town, is a weakness that should not occur if members had opinions and stuck to them. That sort of thing destroys confidence in the work of council.

We want men who will be fearless in the discharge of their civic duties. Men who have no other interest to consider except the welfare of their town. And having only that single interest to serve, will bring knowledge and determination to the job they undertake.

AT THE COURT OF REVISION

We sat through four hours of talking at the Court of Revision, which was held on Monday night, October 29. It was a rather exciting experience, and in many ways an educational one. Some impressions of the meeting stand out clearly and deserve, we think, a note for the record.

The chief impression we received was that the assessor, Mr. E. R. Good, was thoroughly conversant with the complicated job to which he had been appointed. Since we have had scarcely any personal contact at all with the assessor we can write disinterestedly. We interviewed him in the early part of the year, soon after his appointment, and we reported what he told us.

He said then, and we put it on the record, that he would show "no fear or favor" in the carrying out of his duties, which admittedly are of a very onerous character. Few people would envy him his job. For whatever an assessor does, or does not do, will get somebody's back up. As it happens, Mr. Good has raised the ire of a small group of industrial employers in Aurora. But he stuck to his rulings for the most part, and was able to give concrete reasons for so doing.

It was admitted by one industrial employer that assessments in the past in Aurora had been too low. The objective of all good assessing is to achieve the utmost equality in assessment burdens. The measurement system used by the assessor has been in operation for some years; but not in Aurora. That is where the rub is felt. It is a method that is likely to be applied generally in the future.

We pass no opinions on the assessor's rulings. But the fact did emerge during the course of the appeals that a former haphazard system is being replaced by a more certain one, and that the great majority of Aurora home-owners and business men accepted the assessor's decisions without complaint.

COUNCIL REPORT

Council Quashes Mayor's Ban After Hearing Delegation: Gray Coach Line Protest Tax

A regular meeting of council was held in the municipal chambers on Monday night, November 5, when all members were present except Councillor Davies, who was reported confined to his home owing to an accident. A highlight of the long proceedings was the questioning of Mayor Bell by Mr. Everett Korr, of Council's Drive, on the subject of the press being refused access to council files of business. Mr. Korr spoke for a delegation present.

Early business concerned the further appearance of Dr. Henderson and Dr. Boulding on the Kennedy street sewers problem, which was again deferred owing to the absence of another report from the engineer's department.

An application from Mr. Smith concerning the setting up of an ambulance service was referred to the property committee.

Mr. Don Glas, chairman of the recreation commission, presented the newly-appointed recreation director, Mr. P. E. Perryment, to the mayor and members of council.

"Not Parking, Just Stopping"

Mr. Ab Hulse appeared on behalf of the Gray Coach services, protesting the payment of parking fees at the local agent's location. With Mr. Hulse were Mr. Fowler, local agent, Mr. W. D. Foster, vice-president, and

Mr. J. C. Barker, superintendent of operations of the Gray Coach Lines.

In a lengthy address to council, Mr. Hulse challenged the legality of imposing an annual charge on the Gray Coach Lines, maintaining that discriminatory measures were being applied to the company. He claimed that the whole purpose of installing meters was to provide traffic control rather than to provide revenue for the town. The tax proposed for the company would exceed $300 annually.

In their submissions, both Mr. Foster and Mr. Barker emphasized what they suggested as a discrimination against the company, which was providing a necessary service for many travellers and commuters in Aurora.

Maple Cattle Breeders First Consignment Sale

History was made on October 23, 1951, when the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association staged their first consignment sale. The sale was distinctive in that all of the cattle offered were sired by Holstein bulls in the Maple artificial insemination unit. The 57 head sold were drawn from 35 herds over the several counties served by the unit. Most of these breeders had not invested heavily in fashionable lines of Holstein blood. In fact, their only claim to fame was that their young stock carried the blood of the splendid battery of black and white bulls in the Maple unit. Only a few of these herds had been on record of performance and most of the animals offered had no record backing on the dams side. On the sires side there was splendid record backing.

It was not to be expected that cattle with most of their appeal on the one side of the pedigree would sell at ultra high prices. They did sell at good prices, however, and demonstrated the value of such bulls as are found at the Maple Unit in just average registered herds. The 57 head brought $27,622.50, an average of $484 per head. The 15 milking females averaged $592. Twenty-three bred heifers averaged $505; 11 open yearlings $320 and eight heifer calves $358. The top prices were paid where there was record breeding on both sides of the pedigree. Top price of $1,100 was paid by J. E. Houck, Brampton, for a 4-year-old daughter of Londem Texal Highcroft, consigned by Pickering College Farms, Newmarket, which had a two-year-old, 305 day, 2x record, 13,648 lb. George Jackson, Downsview, paid the second high price of $935 for a big straight three-year-old consigned by R. J. Darlington, Maple. She had the good two-year-old record of 13,093 lbs. of 4.76 milk. Next in line was $750, paid by G. L. Gladu, Village Richelieu, P.Q., to C. H. Boake, Downsview, for a "glamor" heifer with record backing on both sides. W. Alex Snedden, Almonte, gave Cecil Atkinson, Schomberg, $700 for a three-year-old, and G. Leslie Peer, Milton, paid $635 to F. G. Stark & Sons, Milton, for a bred heifer.

The sale drew a capacity crowd that could not all be accommodated in Hays' Sales Arena. Auctioneer Lorne Franklin, with the aid of Hugh Coulson on pedigrees, sold the 57 head in less than three hours. The comment that was heard more frequently than any other was that the cattle offered were exceptionally well grown. This could not all be attributed to good feeding. One consignor told the group around his two-year-old heifer that the heifer weighed 200 lbs. more than her dam at maturity. "You must have been extra good to the heifer," said one of the group. "The big bulls at the unit had more to do with it," was the owner's reply. Again and again similar comments were heard. These men were sure that, with the good bulls available at a well managed insemination centre, such as the Maple unit, they were getting better type animals than would have been possible from sires that they could have afforded as individuals.

There must be a lot of people who are thinking in this way. Mr. G. W. Keffler, manager of the unit, said that in the first six months of this year, the unit had an increase of 64 percent in membership and 24 percent in sales. He estimates that the number of inseminations this year may reach 36,000. The holding of the first consignment sale of its kind was in keeping with the progressive spirit that has always characterized the Maple Breeders' Association and its management.

INSIDE INDUSTRY

Aurora Textiles

The achievements of Aurora Textiles in the course of five short years are remarkable. In April, 1946, the company initiated its business here, but it was not until the month of September of that year that the first machinery was installed in its plant. There was then a staff of only three or four. Today there are on the company's payroll over 50 employees.

The secret of this success is to be found in first-class material and first-class workmanship, plus first-class management. It is noteworthy that the original employees are still with the company. They are Len Smith, who built the original tables and fixtures; George Ward; Clarence Downey and Mrs. Skinner.

Their original site was the Mechanics' Hall, which had fallen into disuse. It was there that Mr. Harold Greenhalgh, president of the company, found temporary space for his enterprise, while awaiting a more suitable location. Today none is more pleased than Mr. Greenhalgh himself that the Mechanics' Hall has been restored to its original purpose as an Aurora Community Centre.

Tour Through Factory

Recently it was our pleasure to visit the ultra-modern factory which Mr. Greenhalgh has established at the south end of Aurora, and to make a tour of the premises. Our first impression was the fine exterior of the building, and our second impression, its immaculate interior. Two features attracted our attention: the color-scheme which is so easy on the eyes, and the beautiful fluorescent lighting which has been installed throughout the interior.

We went through the factory in the company of Clarence Downey, who explained the work on the assembly lines as we went along. We were shown the many processes through which Aurora Textiles materials pass from the skin to the finished garment. There are no less than 19 varied processes before the yarn assumes the finished garment: a sweater for a woman, a Miss, or a child from eight to fourteen years of age.

These choice-finished sweaters have a range in many colors; the chief range, however, is the fine gauge knitted sweater. Aurora Textiles are pioneers of the knitted, looped neckline, in the popular-price range; and the company excels in Australian Fleece and tops from Bradford, England. There are many varieties in the creation of the sweaters.

Processing, Etc.

Processing is a complicated task, requiring expert skill. The yarn wound on to cones is transferred to bottle bobbins; and that is the first process in the creation of a sweater.

The factory, which is 110 feet in length and 60 feet wide, contains 20 machines, all of which are used in the manufacture of Textile sweaters. One of these machines has a capacity of 48,000 stitches per minute. The lighting is so arranged that all shadows are eliminated. The factory is also air-conditioned.

Our tour enabled us to see the varied progress of the garments in their various stages of completion, all of which is an interesting experience for visitors like ourselves.

The Staff

Aurora Textiles, which has made such remarkable progress in the five years of its operations, employs eight agents selling from coast to coast in Canada and covering over 500 retail stores.

Mrs. Dorothy Baker is a director and the secretary-treasurer of the company; Mrs. Skinner, who hails from Leicester, England, is forelady; Clarence Downey is in charge of orders in the shipping room; and George Ward is the Knitter superintendent.

Aurora Textiles is an enterprise in which Aurora can take pride. From its early small beginnings it now ranks as a major employer of local labor. It is a clean, fine industry, in top-ranking employment conditions, and Aurora News Page takes pleasure in presenting these facts to its readers.

ELMHURST BEACH

Mrs. Obee Peters gave a dinner party in honor of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Locke of Keswick, on Sunday, Nov. 4, on their Silver Wedding anniversary. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Bales, Newmarket, Miss Bessie Locke and Mrs. Alex Locke of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Green and family visited Mrs. Green's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lunn, on Sunday. Miss Donna Anderson was home for the weekend.

Miss Doris Pollock was also home for the weekend.

The Halloween party at the Jersey school, given by the Elmhurst Women's Institute, was a great success. There were numerous fancy and comic costumes. Prizes were given after the parade of costumes.

The teachers of the school took an active part in making the evening such a success. The school rooms were beautifully decorated. We are certainly proud of our school and staff.

Many thanks to our caretaker, Mrs. Art King.

Mrs. Walter Sedore, our W.I. president, and Walter worked very hard, assisted by Mrs. Brewster, Mrs. Lowndes and Mrs. Boynton and Mrs. Jack Draper, our committee.

What They Are Saying

after-dinner doings by members who have learned "what to expect."

We hear talk now of the formation of an Aurora Business Men's Association, to provide opportunities of discussing domestic matters in a free and easy style. A sort of spark-plug to the somnolent Board of Trade Recreation Commission.

A highlight of the meeting of the Recreation Commission, held on Thursday evening, Nov. 1, was the welcome by Chairman Don Glass to Mr. Perryment, the newly-appointed recreation director. Mr. Glass expressed the best wishes of the commission for the new director's success, and the latter suitably replied. He was anxious to co-operate in all town welfare movements, he said.

Another welcome was that given to Mr. Harvey Bell, who replaces Mrs. Dickson as secretary-treasurer of the commission. His appointment was moved by J. E. Buchanan and seconded by Les. Steadman, and endorsed unanimously by the members present.

Among those present was the Rev. G. H. Purchase, back from a seven weeks' tour with Mrs. Purchase to Victoria, Edmonton, Saskatoon and Winnipeg. While at Winnipeg Mr. Purchase was honored by the conferment of the 3rd degree in the Masonic order. A member of the ancient order for more than 50 years, the reverend gentleman has now reached the utmost peak in its scale of honors.

The former swimming pool committee having being dissolved, it was agreed to form an exploratory committee, consisting of W. Allan, Les. Steadman and J. E. Buchanan, to consider the feasibility of constituting another swimming pool committee.

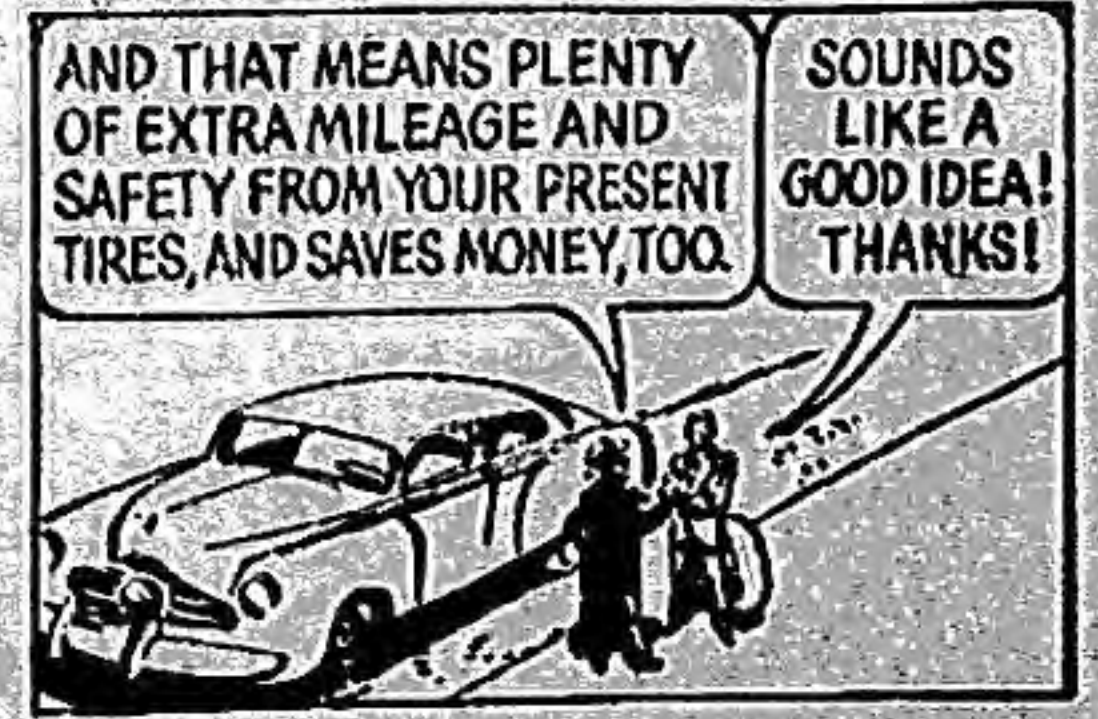

Mr. W. Morris, newly-elected president of the Aurora Lawn Bowling Club, was present in support of a resolution of the club asking for a grant from recreational funds for necessary work on the town property used by the members. The commission unanimously agreed to a $50 grant.

Other business having been dealt with, including a financial statement showing a credit balance of over $600, the meeting adjourned at 10 p.m.

Mr. L. P. Evans has definitely decided, we understand, to seek election as deputy-revee in succession to Mr. J. Murray. With his long municipal experience, Mr. Evans would, as we said last week, be an acquisition to local government. We shall have more to say about him in a later issue. Meanwhile this is an announcement of real importance to Aurora.

We have made a diligent count of the nuts in the squirrel nest in our attic, have searched the almanacs and consulted lunar tables, and this is our conclusion: The cold spell will last another two weeks or so, and will be followed by a mild winter, milder and wetter than last year.

We write this conclusion huddled beside the stove in greatcoat and buffalo robe, but we are not overlooking the possibility that by the time this is printed, the snow will have melted, the sun will be shining, and gentle zephyrs will be blowing over hill and dale. But did Edison hesitate? Was Ford discouraged? The least we can do is speak up and stand by it.

We have checked and rechecked our calculations. There is nothing more to do but to order another ton of coal and hope that mild weather comes soon.

Fred Hagan, Court St., Newmarket, opened a water color show at the Woodworth House on Jarvis St. in Toronto on Saturday night. It was a splendid success. Sunday afternoon, the CBC critic-commentator, George Robertson, gave it an excellent review.

Mr. Hagan came to Newmarket some years ago as an instructor at Pickering College. He left the college to teach at the Ontario Art College where he is now a department head. In recent years, he has done the stage settings for several Newmarket Dramatic Club plays and Pickering College Gilbert and Sullivan presentations. He did the backdrops for the Lions Mirel shows.

The first impression one has of his show is its definite statement, made in a variety of moods, but with the same consistent vigor and style. There is no fumbling, no uncertainty, no groping for effect. The artist ist very obviously knows what he wants to say and says it with a straightforwardness which is refreshing and intriguing.

He speaks through a variety of subject, the nostalgia of spring on a Montreal street, the starkness of a blasted stump in the northlands, the pastels of a Windsor bridge. There is a variety of mood but to each has been brought the firmness of an artist who has something to say.

We've known Mr. Hagan for some years and can claim some familiarity with his work. We've thought of him as an apprentice in the sense that these have been the formative years, the time all artists must serve while they are defining their thinking and perfecting their skill. But the collection of water colors very definitely shows that the apprenticeship is over, that here is an accomplished worker.

The water colors are only one facet of Mr. Hagan's varied talents. He is at home in oils, and on the lithograph stone. In the latter medium he has already achieved a recognition, particularly in his multi-color work where a high degree of technical skill is required as well as talent.

His capacity for work is tremendous; many people look upon the artist as something of a doddler, whose labors are light, to say the least. Perhaps some of them are, but Mr. Hagan is not. His paintings are the total of a great effort over many years and it is very much to the credit of his talent, his work, for all the effort, remains light and fresh to the touch.

Mr. Hagan is a young man as these things are counted in the world of art and that he has so early been able to state his creed in such vivid coloring and with certain brushstrokes well for his future.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

NOVEMBER 5, 1926

Guy Fawkes' Day: Fifty years ago tonight (1883) the 5th of November, was celebrated at the McLure hotel, Holland Landing, in a memorable manner. During the evening bonfires were lit on the principal streets. At 10 o'clock a large party of ladies and gentlemen arrived from Newmarket, Aurora and Bradford and partook of a bounteous supper, followed by speeches and songs.

Ravenshoe: A number of our hunters left Tuesday night for the northern country. Hope they all bring back a deer.

One day last week the staff and employees of the Davis Leather Co. were grouped in front of the premises by a photographer who has produced a fine picture. On Wednesday, just after the noon hour, the office staff and employees of the Office Specialty Co. were grouped in front of the factory on Timothy Street for a similar purpose.

Mount Albert: The Women's Institute celebrated Hallowe'en by having a trip around the world - Canada to Ireland, Scotland Japan - serving lunch at each place to represent each country.

Virginia: Six washing machine agents called in our burg last week.

Baldwin Corners: Awful weather these days.

Keswick chopping mill operates Wednesday to Saturday until further notice. Good milling wheat bought.

Keswick: We are sorry to report that there was a bit of a fist fight in the village on Monday, which is a very unusual event here.

Five inches of snow in Manitoba and Saskatchewan on Monday.

NOVEMBER 8, 1901

The visit of the York County Pioneers here on Tuesday was disappointing. The ladies of the town were informed that there would be 50 or 60 people up from the city and they had prepared a very dainty tea, covers being placed for 60 persons and the tables beautifully decorated with flowers and silverware - but only two pioneers, together with those who were to take part at the concert, put in an appearance.

Kettleby: Hallowe'en night was made somewhat remarkable by a club of small boys with a big consignment of old glass, which they dashed on the sidewalk in front of the post office. Of course the inmates rushed for the door saying there was no sport about that, as they expected to find the front window badly smashed. Those boys - what will we do with them?

King City: The Dramatic Co. of the Y.P.A. of the English church, which so successfully presented "Dot, the Miner's Daughter," in town last week, have accepted a pressing invitation to present this same play at Maple.

The plowing match at Lloyd-town was quite a success. The day being fine, the crowd of both ladies and gentlemen was good.

Lord Strathcona is spoken of as Canada's next Governor-General. And why not? He is better acquainted with the Dominion and its people than any resident in public life in the motherland that the British government could name.

Mayor Silver of Collingwood entertained a number of distinguished guests at luncheon at the Grand Central hotel one day last week.

THURSDAY, THE EIGHTH DAY OF NOVEMBER, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE

REMEMBRANCE DAY

We will be asked on Saturday to buy Poppies, the "flower of remembrance...". Can we remember as we should? Upon the memory of Flanders is imposed the memory of Normandy hedgerows; upon these memories is imposed the memory of Korean ridges. Is it any wonder the memory of Flanders grows dim?

Yet remember we must, not as a debt owing the dead who lie there, but as a hope that there may be no more memories. In Flanders is the hope of a million hearts. They fought a war to end all wars. Their sons have fought again. The setting changes; the issue is the same.

If we forget their inspiration, what hope is left? How easy to turn away from that first memory with bitterness. The war to end all war only spawned an evil offspring and yet another grows upon us. How easy to dismiss their sacrifice.

Yet had we sought only the easy way, would we have fought so for freedom? When we chose freedom, we set our foot to the stonier path. Our path has led from Flanders through the hedgerows and to the Korean ridges. We must continue our way. To stop now would be to repudiate the choice they made who lie in Flanders.

We must remember those who died in Flanders, not for their salvation but for our own. In them was the substance that quickened our foot on the path. They must inspire us still if we are to reach the end of our ordeal.

SPEED TRAPS

Newmarket council members continue their bull-headed refusal to use common sense to slow traffic on residential streets with one possible exception, Councillor Thomas Birrell, who observed in council last week that he thought it unfair for the police to hide themselves when operating a speed trap. "They should be in the open instead of taking the motorist off guard," he insisted.

Mr. Birrell is on the right track. If the police were in the open, where the motorist could see them, the motorist would slow down instead of continuing on his merry way at the same high rate of speed. The point that the Newmarket council has completely ignored is that the purpose of the police is first of all to prevent the offense and secondly, to catch the offender. The police aren't doing the most important part of their job when they skulk in the bushes with a timer.

If Newmarket council is in earnest about slowing speeders, let the council set about the job with some attention to fundamentals. "Hitting 'em in the pocket-book where it hurts," the expressed policy of Councillor Charles VanZant, is obviously accomplishing little except to give Newmarket a black eye. There may be some satisfaction in catching the offender; we would think, however, there would be far more satisfaction in preventing the offense.

And Newmarket can prevent the offense to a very large degree if the council would take five minutes to order the erection of warning signs on every "fast" street in the town. We don't mean those piddling highway markers, half out of sight on the shoulders of the road, but good, honest signboards, visible a mile.

Use those signboards to warn the motorist that the speed limit is 30 miles an hour, warn him that speed traps are likely to be set anywhere on the road, warn him that the penalties are strictly enforced. And then if he persists, haul a few over to the side of the road and give them a ticket. Traffic would slow down in a hurry.

But this business of parking in the bushes and bagging a lot of speeders has succeeded only in giving Newmarket a country-wide reputation and done little to make the streets safer.

STREET LIGHTS AND SIGNS

Deputy Reeve J. L. Spillette wants to place electric lights on both sides of the street out Eagle St. to Yonge. This is a laudable ambition but one which has so far been frustrated by the mayor's feeling that it is impractical. The Eagle St. lights would serve the double purpose of lighting what is becoming a residential street and serving as an advertisement, by night at least, for Newmarket.

We hope Mr. Spillette will pursue his ambition undaunted by the obstacles placed in his path. But should the pace tell, might we suggest he tackle an equally important project, one which would serve the same purpose by day as the lights would by night, and that is an adequate advertisement for Newmarket on Yonge St.

The last we heard of the proposal, which was brought before council at the beginning of the summer, was that it was to be handed over to a committee to study. As far as we know, it is still in committee. If, by the way of diversion, Mr. Spillette would care to ferret out of committee a decision on a sign for Newmarket, he will have accomplished at least part of the purpose his light scheme also serves.

Mr. Spillette's proposal highlights a fact about Newmarket which members of council appear at times to reject with horror: that Newmarket is becoming a major centre. We are all proud of our growth, but there is apparent a stubborn refusal to match the growth with its proper trappings. We know of no other town the size of Newmarket which is so modest about its accomplishments that it will not provide passers-by with a hint of its existence.

Newmarket opens upon one of the main traffic arteries in the province but there is nothing to advise travellers that the town is there beyond one inadequate signpost. Surely Newmarket is owed more recognition by its council.

RETAIL PRICE CUTTING

In an effort to find ways of reducing prices, the government has set up a committee to investigate the practice of manufacturers of setting a retail price on their goods when they distribute them to retailers. The move, we imagine, had its source at least partly in the recent price war in the States when large department stores began cutting prices on certain appliances after it was found that the setting of fixed resale prices was contrary to law.

The consumers in Newmarket, Aurora, and other semi-rural centres have a large stake in the decision of such a committee. Should the government rule the practice out, there is a very strong possibility that the small, independent dealer will cease to exist. Without the independents, the chain stores and the large department stores would hold a virtual monopoly over all retail sales. Without a fixed retail price, it would be possible for the chains and department stores to drive competition to the wall by simply lasting them out in a price war. The small independent has neither the resources nor the customers to last out such competition. A brief from the Ontario Retail Druggists Association, says:

"If the manufacturer is prohibited by law from establishing a resale price on his product, and the large operator resorts to price cutting, the power of dollars alone will destroy the small independent retailer. The small independent retailer cannot compete with the big operator in a price war because his resources run out. If he does not meet the slashed prices of the price cutter, his customers will desert him; if he does meet them, he either sacrifices the honest profits he needs to keep his business going, or he has to cut wages or resort to mark-up practices of the price cutters on other merchandise of which his variety is smaller. And if he discontinues the sale of cut-price goods, his customers will go elsewhere to fill their needs. Whatever he does, he stands to lose and our economy stands to lose with him."

The fact is that while there may have been instances when selling price of some goods has been inordinately high, in general, the merchant's mark-up is placed as low as he can reasonably do so. He must do this if he is to meet the requirements of competition. He has protection from cut-throat competition from his manufacturer in the establishment of retail prices. But the manufacturer, no less than the retailer, is anxious to sell his goods and those fixed prices are also placed as low as possible to meet the requirements of competition.

No business, big or small, can stand consistent loss. If the independents were driven out of business by price cutting, the cost of that war would still be borne by the customer in one form or another. All of us have a stake in maintaining our independent stores because without them, the big operators would not have any form of check. Some prices might go down but we would pay heavily enough for the saving in other ways.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Some recognition of the danger of the corner of Yonge and Davis Drive has been given by county authorities at least. They have erected a sign on Davis Dr. warning that there is a highway ahead. The provincial authorities, however, still ignore the reputation of the corner. They have done nothing whatever to warn drivers of the hazards of the intersection nor taken steps to reduce the hazard.

They say that the first fall of snow last year was on the day the Hunters' Special pulled out. And the same thing happened this year. We hope the practice will not become a habit.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

It was four above at six o'clock the other morning. Some buses and trucks were frozen up. A milkman was working over his horse which was also frozen up.

With a pall of hot water steaming, the milkman tinkered around exclaiming that he thought the trouble was either in Dobbin's radiator or else his water pump. Later I saw him coasting down Main St. trying to get him going in gear.

I dropped over to Slim Bliggen's shack, the piano box mansion by the railway tracks. He was just chipping his goldfish out of the garden fish pond with an ice pick.

"Didn't expect she'd freeze up like this so early in the season," said Slim. "Come in and we'll thaw out with some special coffee I made out'n of ethylene glycol."

As we chatted about the morning news, Slim dunked each goldfish into his coffee, rendered artificial respiration with his thumb and flipped it into his indoor aquarium.

"You figure those fish will live to swim again?" I asked.

"Shen," said Slim. "These here come from a hardy species I caught out of Fairly Lake. They withstood many winters and also the great drainage and excavation of '49. These here fish is direct descendants of another species of pieces which withstood the ice age. They can withstand practically any environment you can whomp up. Maybe they will inherit the earth."

"But the meek are supposed to inherit the earth," I corrected.

"Well what's meeker'n a fish, I ask yuh?"

"When it comes to meek, I suppose a fish has got it all over any creature you might think of," I said. "Of course a shark or a baracuda isn't so meek."

"Well it all depends on the type of fish for meekness at that," agreed Slim.

"I see that the Tories have implemented an even greater program of austerity in Blighty," I said, looking over the morning paper. "It says here that it may mean a suspension of the five-day week."

"Them Britons is havin' a tough time, all right," said Slim. "It is going to be tough on my cousin Pubhome Bliggen. He says he's pretty tuckered out on a five-day week as it is. 'Course he doesn't eat much himself so he isn't much of a U.K. problem. Fact is, he hardly eats at all."

"That so?"

"Yep. He's a professional dart thrower. Makes his living throwing darts in dart games in one of the community social centres you find all over England."

"It's a wonder he wasn't nationalized when the labor government was in," I said.

"Well he nearly was but the government didn't think he was worth the capital investment," said Slim. "But now that the Tories is back in again, I suspect that he will have to get pretty austere."

"I just fail to conjure up any sort of impression of an austere professional dart player," I said. "Could you give me any help in that?"

"Well, Pubhome comes from a long line of British Bliggen who have made dart throwing a specialized art for seven centuries. It has been tradition that the British Bliggen neither flag nor fall. They wear a heavy-lidded nonchalant look about them, turning neither to the right nor left. Hence austerity will be no problem to the British Bliggen."

"Then tuckered though he may be, you figure that Pubhome will be able to survive the coming ordeal?"

"No doubt about it!"

The ethylene glycol coffee a la Bliggen had worked me up to a boil by this time. I was able to steam through the cold morning with comparative ease. I think I will recommend it to the milkman. No horse should be without it.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

So here it is, and only the first week of November too. The ground is frozen hard and it isn't even the Winter Fair yet. We remember a few years ago we were still ploughing the first week in December.

We are wondering how many cars, trucks and tractors were frozen the other morning, and how much damage was done in extra wear and tear to implements, and through other losses caused by this storm. It just goes to show that in this country you are never quite safe when it comes to weather. We used to count on such sure things like nuts on trees and the fur on the muskrat and other signs referred to as reliable in this paper, yet even they will let you down.

We had a number of cattle outside when this cold snap started. They were outside, because, we thought, it was too early to stable them and also because there are more than we could put under cover right now. Some of them were quite young. We were surprised to see how well they came through the two days. We are not sure yet, if it was the right thing to do, to bring them in.

We are slowly becoming convinced that most of the young stuff in this country is housed too elaborately. We believe that one could house yearling heifers, ready to breed and just bred, in open sheds in the winter time as long as they are out of the wind and get plenty of water and good roughage. There are two "ifs" attached to this. One, that they be started as calves with the utmost care and fed to the best of one's ability the first four or five months. The other that when they get to be within three months of calving, they should be separated from the bunch outside and given plenty of feed concentrate and care.

In the New England States we have seen some of the best young cattle last winter with coats as shaggy as a bear and some of the poorest ones tied in rows, partly clipped and in general looking too pampered.

We think that in general the housing of dairy cattle has reached the point where there is a tendency of building with less steel, less cement and maybe less expense too. We have seen some very comfortable new barns where there were just wooden partitions between the cows and the animals were tied with a single rope and a leather halter. These stalls, called fittingly, comfort stalls, are wide, maybe four and a half or five feet. They make a very attractive stable.

We have seen some heifer stables, divided into large boxes, and a hayrack in each. The heifers were groups according to size. The gates in the center passage were removable and they can be cleaned with a spreader and manure loader.

When we look at some of the so-called up-to-date stabling, with a very short platform and squeezed in about 36 inches to a beast and the smoothly worn platform to stand on, we are reminded of tenement houses and slums in large cities. We think that cattle would do more comfortable in the lee of the strawstack.

In the meantime, maybe it isn't going to get any warmer this year. Well, we don't really mind the winter except for the first two weeks and the last four weeks. Once we are used to it, and settle down to it, it has its points. The sure coming of next spring is one of the greatest advantages we can think of.

ST. JOHN'S HOLDS HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL

A Hallowe'en social was held in St. John's school on Monday, Oct. 29, when members of the parish, with their friends, gathered for a very pleasant evening. The party was under the auspices of the Catholic Women's league.

The basement of the school was used for the first time since its renovation. Cards and games were played. Group singing was another item on the informal program. The evening closed with the serving of delicious refreshments. The league is planning to have these friendly get-togethers frequently during the winter.

News Of The W.I.

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

Union Street branch met at the home of Mrs. Willard Cryderman Thursday afternoon, Nov. 1. There was a large attendance. Mrs. Archie Sedore, the president, was in the chair and welcomed the Lakeside ladies who were our guests. The meeting opened with the "Ode," followed by the Mary Stewart collect. The roll call, "Stand up and introduce yourself," was responded to by members and guests.

A trip by bus to the Winter Fair in Toronto is being arranged.

Mrs. Ross Armitage of Pine Orchard, who was a delegate to Ohio, sponsored by the Federation of Agriculture, gave an excellent account of her trip by bus and the many interesting places she visited. Her address was much enjoyed by everyone.

The program was put on by the visiting Institute, Mrs. Mahoney, the president, in charge. Mrs. Boothby sang a solo, "Bluebird on your windowsill."

Mrs. M. Rye gave a reading, "Rhyming Rilla has an overdose of Radio."

Mrs. Carr gave a reading, "Building a Nation." Mrs. Mahoney gave a paper on "Citizenship and Education." A car contest was conducted by Mrs. Gable. We would like to thank the ladies for a most enjoyable program. A dainty lunch was served by the north group.

The Zephyr branch sponsored a bus to the W.I. convention held in the Royal York hotel, Toronto, on Tuesday last. Quite a number of the ladies of the county attended these meetings.

Lake Shore branch held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening with the president, Mrs. P. Mahoney presiding and a good attendance of members and friends. Mrs. M. Rye was appointed as our delegate to the W.I. three-day convention.

The subject for the meeting was "Historical Research." Mrs. A. Pollock described the founding and building of "Sharon Temple" at Sharon.

Miss Gilroy had in her possession a few very old copies of the Era and the Globe. They were 50 and 60 years old. The ads and current events of that time proved very interesting and amusing.

A social time followed. The joint hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Mace and Mrs. G. Harper.

At Laskay branch bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 10, the sale of aprons will hold special attraction. Last year 70 were sold. Members are making doll clothing and children's toys for the kiddies' booth. At the close of the afternoon, lucky draws will be held for a silver candy dish, a fruit cake and two strips of milk tickets.

A Christmas box of food parcels will be made up at King branch on Tuesday evening, Nov. 13, which will be sent to a branch in Kent, England. Members are requested to bring contributions in canned goods, etc., to that meeting.

"Things we should remember" is the roll call for the regular meeting of the Newmarket branch. It will be held in the Agricultural Board rooms on Thursday, Nov. 15, 2:30 p.m. Reports on the area convention will be given by the delegates.

And that the tax would have to be paid by the local agent from his 10 percent commission on intake.

"Under your by-law," asserted Mr. Barker, "the tax cannot legally be enforced. Our buses do not park; they stop only to allow passengers to get on and get off the coaches."

The representations of Mr. Hulse and the company's representatives were deferred for further consideration by council.

Interrogates Mayor Bell
Mr. Everett Kerr, representing a delegation, asked Mayor Bell under what authority he had refused the press the right to see the file of council business, which had been granted by a resolution of council in July, 1950? He asked the mayor if he had acted without consent of council?

Mayor Bell said they had a new clerk and assistant clerk and he felt that their time ought not to be taken up in attending to the press. The press was there at council to report meetings.
Mr. Kerr pointed out that citizens wanted to read what resolutions and letters were dealt with at council, and it appeared that the only way these could be reported was for the press to see these from the file. He asked whether the mayor thought he had acted in either a democratic or legal manner in giving instructions over the heads of council?

Mayor Bell replied that he considered his action was in order.

Mr. Kerr then asked if members of council agreed with the mayor?

Press Rights Restored

At a later stage of business, Councillor Corbett, in a strongly-worded statement, said he was the mover of the July, 1950, resolution, which gave the press

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

CONCERT AND
FANTASY

From the time we came to Newmarket we have heard this dictum repeated with variations: "Newmarket is not a musical town". Yet people flock to churches where there is special music; they crowd Pickering College, near Gilbert and Sullivan, they fill the hall for the Minstrel Show.

For, the vexed question of whether or not, was settled once for all, when on Tuesday evening of last week the Women's Association of Trinity United Church and the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association of Newmarket presented Jeanne Pengelly, soprano, assisted by Kenneth Morton, baritone, with Norman Hurrell as accompanist and piano soloist, in a concert of fine music.

No love for music? Each number on the program was greeted with a rising enthusiasm which caused Madame Pengelly to say she could not have wished for a warmer or more understanding response to her numbers.

It was a program that had appeal for every taste—oratorio, ballads, folk songs and opera, and in each one, Madame Pengelly was equally at home. For women only, I'll say her turquoise gown with its garniture of crimson roses from waist to hem was very lovely, but for everyone we can say that her poise and charm and warmth won her audience as much as her fine voice.

We have always thought that oratorio was the supreme test of a singer. There is all the dramatic intensity of opera, but the singer has to make her audience feel this without the help of acting or costume. In "Hear Ye Israel," Jeanne Pengelly did just that—it was vivid, powerful, a word picture—as oratorio should be.

This was also true of the duet, "What have I to do with Thee", when, joined by Kenneth Morton's fine baritone, the story of Elijah and the woman of Zarephath was brought to us all in its beauty and pathos and triumphant ending.

Feeling of Other Days

How we love to hear the songs with which we are familiar, like "Songs My Mother Taught Me". They bring a nostalgic feeling for other days; then I had the experience of sitting between two ardent Scots, Mrs. Hayes and Archie, when "Ay Waukin' O" was sung. "Ah," sighed one; "Oh," breathed the other, and the words of another song, "Sing to me the Auld Scots' Songs" which tells of "the Scotch blood leapt in my veins as she sang those songs to me!" came to mind.

Madame Pengelly knew how to inject the tonic of humor which makes the whole world kin, and she did it with a delightfully light touch. If a French chanson was charming and her opening German number beautifully grave and affecting without being sombre.

Her two operatic numbers gave us a chance to hear how fine was her interpretive dramatic art. We could feel Tosca's anguish as she is faced with an impossible choice. Then in her selection from Madame Butterfly, she voices her faith very beautifully.

We were glad to hear Kenneth Morton again in the operatic duet with which they closed the program. It is good to hear our home talent, which too often has to go abroad to be recognized.

And now I want to say something about one of the highlights of the evening, Norman Hurrell's accompaniments. Only those who sing can realize how terribly important an accompaniment is. It can support and lend its own unobtrusive beauty to the songs or it can play havoc with singer and songs. Mr. Hurrell's accompaniments were like a rainbow of music with their fulfilled promise of underlying beauty and we were all pleased when Madame Pengelly acknowledged this so gracefully.

In his group of piano numbers, Mr. Hurrell achieved a veritable triumph. Mrs. Bosdale, Archie and I wondered how he would interpret the Andante Cantabile for we had always heard it as a string quartette, but we learned it could be a beautiful piano number. In his Chopin and Rachmaninoff numbers, he brought out the underlying pathos which is Chopin and the splendor that is Rachmaninoff.

In lending his Steinway grand piano for the concert, Rev. Robert Pugh did a fine thing, and of the whole concert, I'll say "let us have more like it." There's a P.S. to this—something I forgot which to us and to many others was unforgettable—Madame Pengelly's rendering of "Were you there when they crucified my Lord" in which she seemed to put her whole soul and which will live in the memory and hearts of all who heard it.

Fantasy

We all like to see things growing—the growth of a child, of a tree, of a nation—they all fascinate us and it is the growth of the Dramatic Club, the increase in dramatic art in the members that makes it incumbent in all of us to watch that growth, water it with our enthusiasm, feed it with the encouragement of our presence.

In "Harvey" a cast of amateurs was taking over the task of making us see what wasn't there—and the strange thing was, they did just that, for as we were going through the square to the car, I had an uncanny feeling that we might see Harvey leaning against one of the lamp posts!

All those players whom we had seen in other productions had gained poise, in diction, in stage sense, if I may put it that way, and the new additions were decided assets. I have once or twice said in these write-ups that we did not hear every word. This time we never missed a line, and don't let anyone think that that is not a triumph. To remember never to turn too much from your audience is not always easy, but when achieved that audience is your friend, for after all it is the audience who gives the final dictum of success or failure; and they must hear to be able to judge.

Of making us see what wasn't the principals were outstanding. Mrs. Brown has as many changes of expression as an April day has of temperature, and she had a use for every one of them.

Her frantic efforts to have her brother and Harvey—put out of circulation so that she and her daughter, well played by Florence Goldsmith, could lead a normal life, were excessively funny, especially the hospital scene, but not as funny as her capitulation to her brother and Harvey in the end.

Joe Dales did a really wonderful bit of acting. The pleasing personality with its overlay of fantasy, the gentle reasonableness which drew people to him only to be completely flabbergasted when Harvey appears—or didn't—was a more than fine bit of acting, as was Dorothy Bowman's, when as Elsie Chavonet she encountered him. Her expression of almost idiotic stunned surprise was marvelous.

The sure Brian Crane and Don Stewart as the M.D.'s must have given any psychiatrist something to think about; they gave the audience something to have a good laugh over, and the nurse, played by Laurina Style, was very effective, especially in the bits of by-play with Dr. Sanderson.

Nick Styke as Wilson, the male nurse, was real enough to make one think of all the stories one has read about psychopathic rest homes; while Jack Strathmore as Omar Gaffney, I.L.D., made us see very clearly that a lawyer's life, like Gilbert and Sullivan's policeman's, is not a happy one.

Ruby Honey as Betty Chumley, and Ken Leaming as the taxi driver, showed in these small parts that they are being groomed to give us greater things. It was an evening of solid fun and did us all good. Those responsible for the production—Dr. Vandervoort, Joe Dales, Ken Leaming, Jack Fisher, Dorothy Bowman and Nancy Hughes, did a fine job, while Alvin Stephen's effort was superb. Her accompanist, Mrs. Bosdale, assisted ably. It was fun all through and we look forward to the next production.

ENGLISH CHURCHES DESCRIBED TO W.A.

Mrs. C. E. Wheeland ably led the devotional period at the November 1 meeting of the Women's association, Trinity United Church, Newmarket. She was assisted by Mrs. B. Morton who gave the Bible reading.

This was followed by two excellent piano solos by Master W. Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Mills. After the business session, the president, Mrs. M. B. Seldon completed her interesting travelogue on England. Her detailed descriptions of Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's Cathedral were enjoyed by the ladies.

The Christmas meeting is planned for Thursday, Dec. 6 when a special program will be presented. All ladies of the congregation are invited to attend.

ANDERSON - BOX

St. Andrew's church, Calabogie, Ont., was the scene of a quiet wedding on Monday, Oct. 29, at 2 p.m., when Margaret Hawley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose H. Box, became the bride of Howard Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anderson of Aurora. Rev. E. A. Jaster officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length dress of navy crepe and tulle, with pink velour hat, and corsage of sweetheart roses and lily-of-the-valley.

The couple were unattended, the register being signed by the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Box.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Calabogie.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left for a trip through the New England States, the bride travelling in a three-piece navy blue suit with matching accessories.

Upon their return they will reside in Newmarket.

C.N.I.B. COMMITTEE MEETS IN NEWMARKET

"Publicity of the achievements of blind people is a source of encouragement to others who have lost their sight," stated Mr. P. C. O'Neill, director of publicity for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, in a brief address given at the annual meeting of the Newmarket and District Advisory Committee of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind held on Thursday evening, Nov. 1.

The meeting, presided over by Mrs. J. E. Morris, considered the Institute's work during the past year, and laid plans for future activities. In the welfare convener's report, Mrs. C. S. Gilbert stated that there were 43 persons living in this area who are registered with the Institute.

The services extended to these people include books loaned from the Institute's braille and talking book library, home instruction in handicrafts and in some instances cash assistance is given to avert hardship.

The treasurer's report indicated that the annual campaign to raise funds in Newmarket and the surrounding area had met with a favorable response.

The following persons were re-elected to office for the ensuing year: Chairman, Mrs. J. E. Morris; vice-chairman, Mr. H. A. Jackson; sec., Mrs. Elman W. Campbell; treas., Mr. Alex MacKay; welfare convener, Mrs. C. S. Gilbert.

If you meet a lobster wearing an aluminum tag, don't waste sympathy. It wasn't hauled up for parking opposite a hydrant. The tag was put there by the National Fisheries Board which is sleuthing out marine life stories. A salmon, so decorated, was re-caught after four years and a lobster after ten. The tags were still in excellent condition.
Aluminum's ability to withstand the elements is one of the advantages which make it increasingly popular for walls, roofs and architectural embellishments. An aluminum cornice in Montreal was taken down recently — undamaged after being exposed to the weather since 1895. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

An "NHA best seller" this charming bungalow would be a fashion leader in any residential district. It has been designed to meet today's demand for economy through the judicious use of a limited amount of floor area and provides five full-size standard rooms and bathroom within exterior dimensions of 37 feet by 31 feet nine inches.
The design follows simple lines, deviating only slightly from the dollar-saving rectangular house plan for the living room extension which adds a note of distinction to an exterior which might otherwise appear bare.
A compact, conveniently located kitchen is large enough for a dining nook but if more space is required for serving meals the living room may do double duty as a living-dining room. The large window areas enhance the appearance while the porch arrangement provides a protected front entrance.
One of the prime considerations in planning the room arrangement of a bungalow is the separation of the sleeping quarters from the remainder of the house. This has been accomplished in this plan through location of the basement stairway and bathroom which effectively separates the bedrooms from the living section.
For estimating purposes the area of the house is 1,008 square feet and the cubic contents are 21,150 cubic feet.
Working drawings for this plan, known as Design No. 50-2, are available from any office of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

"CHRISTMAS COMES but once a year" is an old and often quoted saying, but with it comes much preparation and wise, thrifty women are starting to plan their holiday gift-making now. Small items are fun to make and the appreciation from the receiver will be your reward.
For the Children
Children's love of toys and playthings is a wonderful incentive for making the cuddly toys that capture the hearts of everyone. Patterns for these practical, loveable dolls and animals can be found in any of the pattern catalogues. They can be made from gay materials which is all part of their charm. A complete new wardrobe can be made, at no extra cost, from left-overs for the little girls favorite of favorite dolls. In some cities and stores, there are doll hospitals where this special doll can be taken for a new face, broken limbs repaired or a new hair-do as the case may be. Sport clothes are also popular gifts for children. Boys and girls like neat mittens, sweaters, scarves, socks, windbreakers and hats. All these things can be made of bright colored materials to please the wearer and to encourage him, or her, to pursue his favorite sports.
Choice for Men
Who says it's hard to find something for the men in the family? Men are very easily pleased, especially if you choose something useful as well as ornamental. If you are able to make your gifts, your chances of pleasing him are even greater (especially for "Hubby" who pays the bills). All men need shirts, underwear, ties, pajamas, dressing gowns, gloves, scarves, socks, sweaters, etc., and all these things can be made by you. Men's dressing gowns are easy to make and can be plain or elaborate according to the wearer's taste. You can make them from lovely woolsens, stunning silks or good-looking, washable cottons. Choose a soft trim or a bright contrast. Some dressing gowns are trimmed with silk cord and have a fringed belt. The cord and fringe are sold by the yard in most department stores. For men's gifts, you can also use your talent for embroidery or appliqué. Bold initials look smart on dressing gowns, sport shirts, scarves and handkerchiefs. So, you see, there is a large scope from which to choose. Making gifts for him may get you a brand new sewing machine.
Gift Set for Men
For smaller gifts, we have pictured here a pair of socks with a matching case, and also a set of 3 golf club mitts. The socks and case are made with a remnant of cotton upholstery, buckram and bias binding. The golf club mitts are made from water resistant cotton and lined with cotton flannel to protect the costly clubs. This pattern is given for a two-tone set, but can be made in all one color if you prefer. If you wish to have a direction leaflet to make these gifts, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper requesting GIFTS FOR MEN, Leaflet No. E-300.

King City And District

CORE, MRS. L. E. ROLLING, PHONE KING 8

Aubrey J. Gordon (Doc) has sold his prosperous garage business because of ill health to William W. Drinkwater of King and recently of Toronto. It carries an authorized agency for Chevrolet and Oldsmobile cars and a full line of General Motors products. When Mr. and Mrs. Gordon return in the Spring from a winter vacation in Florida he will act as salesman for the "Bill Drinkwater Motors", officially opened on Monday, Nov. 5.

Known from coast to coast, "Doc" Gordon's executive ability and personality have won him spectacular success. Going into business for himself 15 years ago, he started at the bottom of the ladder. At the age of 44, his retirement from garage operation has come at the peak of achievement and is a disappointment rather difficult to take.

Born at Laskay of pioneer stock, hard work, long hours and a keen desire to give a "fair deal always", have contributed to Mr. Gordon's unqualified success and popularity. One of the chief sources of satisfaction has been the handling of good products, he stated. "I would never sell inferior goods. It had to be products I would buy and use personally," he declared.

While it may not have been in the interest of good health, Doc has worked all night many a time to finish a job he "had promised" a customer.

In 1927, Doc was mechanic for garage operator, Ab Card (now King City Motors) whose business was taken over by B. J. Langdon where he remained for the next seven years. In 1936 he went on his own in what was then Aubrey Campbell's garage, now King City Grill. Two years later he built the present commodious garage with the overhead living apartment. The garage was later extended. He had started out with one mechanic and finishes with six employees, who are retained in the business.

Mrs. Gordon has been bookkeeper and stenographer in her husband's business, in addition to looking after two children. At the end of this month, the Gordon's will move from the apartment above the garage to their new home on King sideroad. The Drinkwater family will then occupy the apartment.

The new owner, Bill Drinkwater, who is 31, was raised in Toronto, attending Upper Canada College, and holds a senior accountancy diploma in business administration. He enlisted in the Toronto Scottish in 1941. He is now the commanding officer of the Toronto Scottish, succeeding Col. B. A. Upjohn of King.

In 1948 Mr. Drinkwater purchased the Bolsby Coal business, Toronto, selling out later to become engaged for most of the past year with W. A. McDowell, Ltd., Pontiac and Buick cars. The Drinkwater's are at King, first because they are fond of the district and because his wife's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Phair, are here. They are living at the Phair home until they settle in the village. "When Doc decided to sell out, it was an opportunity to live here", he stated.

The couple have two children, David, aged 3, and John, five months. They belong to United Church. As a golf enthusiast, Mr. Drinkwater belongs to Lambton Golf Club. He was a hockeyist playing for his own school, Georgetown and Quebec Seniors. He finished playing rugby with Balmy Beach team in 1947. He is active in the city Military Institute and a member of St. George's Society. When the family get settled as district residents, they expect to find life busy at King.

Hallowe'en Celebrations

The large number of Hallowe'en costumes displayed at celebrations, held in the communities of Laskay and King, indicated that the spirit of Hallowe'en is not to be resisted. At Laskay hall the Women's Institute conducted an evening for about 40 children and 20 adults. In the children's classes, Beverley Hunter, Carol Anne Egan, Bobby Anderson and Russell Arbuckle were prize-winners, and Mrs. McKay and Miss Freeda Farley were adult winners.

In McDonald and Wells' hall, nearby all the children of King school, about 20 pre-school children, six high school students and several adults were in the costume parade. The auditorium was filled. Rev. M. H. Jenkinson was chairman, assisted by Miss Dennis, Miss Patton and Miss Thomas, the teachers. The judges were Mrs. Ted Thompson, Miss Mary Jane Walker and Mrs. L. E. Rolling. The evening was sponsored by King Memorial Library Board, of which Mr. J. L. Gray is chairman.

Following the masquerade awards, S. B. Covell, Toronto, an expert magician, entertained. A short play, "In the Suda" was given by three members of King W.I. Dramatic Club, Mrs. G. Wells, Mrs. A. Rumble and Mrs. A. E. Jarvis.

The following were prize-winners in order of merit: pre-school: Sheila Bell, Wayne Campbell and Murray Gordon. Grades 1 to 4: girls' fancy dress: Margaret Keene, Clair Barry, Elaine Armstrong, Rita Cook, Billie Kie, Barbara Patton, Beverley Barker; boys' fancy: Bill Patton, Jimmy Nicol, John Wally; boys' comic, Dennis Guthrie, Bryan Bunn, Ronnie Archibald;

Senior room: girls fancy, Dorreen Rutledge, Nancy Patton, Stella Thomas; girls comic, Carol Gellatly, Carol Judd, June Peck, Jo Ann Wilson and Betty Cunningham, as Tom, Dick and Jane were well patronized. The afternoon tea was enjoyed by many despite the fact that high gales on the previous day carried off 40 sandwich loaves from the top of Weston's bread truck, being delivered by John Mabry. He had to make an extra trip to Toronto to replace the bread which was made up into a variety of sandwiches the evening preceding the bazaar on Nov. 1.

Hockey Team Under Athletic Wing
The newly organized hockey team will be known as King City Maroons, and is being sponsored by Lake Marie and King Athletic Association. The group will wear maroon hockey sweaters, mounted with the club insignia.

The country home of Count and Countess Bieniewski, "Radwan", destroyed by fire on Sunday, was a brick veneer plan building, built on the third concession by Mark Hutchinson for one of his sons. At one time it was the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Ern. Glass of Aurora.

Mrs. Jas. Armstrong was the only woman to apply to F. J. Armstrong for a hunting license during the recent pheasant hunt in October.

Succeeds Wm. Hiltz
Mr. William Willoughby of Washago, who is 24 years of age, has been appointed foreman of the C.N.R. road maintenance crew at King, succeeding W. H. Hiltz who retired in October after 43 years. Bill came from his home at Washago to work under Mr. Hiltz at King about five years ago. When he and Doris Hollinshead were married two years ago last June, he returned to his home town to take up the same work with the C. N. R. there. In his new position Bill will have older men under his charge who will share the responsibility with a great deal of interest in the young man. The new foreman takes over officially on Monday, Nov. 12. The Willoughby's and their young son Paul will live for the present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ern. Hollinshead, Kinghorn, parents of Mrs. Willoughby.

Turkey Supper Successful

About 400 people enjoyed a full course turkey supper at Laskay United church last Friday evening, a good crowd considering the bad weather. Preparations had been made for upwards of 600, and 575 pounds of delicious turkey were on hand. Four or five cooked fowl were easily sold when it was found they would not be required. The supper was given under the auspices of the W.M.S. and the W.A. The sale of tickets, extra fowl, pies and vegetables brought in $600 from which a substantial profit will accrue after expenses are met.

Each of the 35 members of the organization had made six pies, and about four dozen tarts, as well as quantities of fresh rolls, apple sauce, jellies and contributions of pickles. People came from Toronto, Maple, Aurora and several points in Vaughan and King townships. Mrs. Ed. Patton of Edmonton was one of the visitors. She had arrived unexpectedly at the home of Mrs. Fred Boys, her husband's sister at Oak Ridges, as they were getting their car to go to Laskay, the home town of the Pattons.

Brownies to Meet
On Saturday afternoon at 2.30, a meeting of the Brownie Pack will be held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Tetley at the rectory for the purpose of enrolling all girls aged 8 to 11 who wish to become members of the pack. The leaders, Mrs. Marion Laing, Mrs. Mona Walker and Miss Fuy

Armstrong will be present. Regular pack meetings will be held in the parish room of the Anglican church.

Prolific Plant
An African violet plant in the home of Mrs. G. T. Thompson has been the object of much admiration during the past couple of months. It measures 14 inches in diameter and is 13 inches tall. It has born as many as 75 blooms and buds at one time, and still has 60 blue flowers. Started from a single leaf, it began blooming in three months' time and appears to be four plants instead of the original single plant.

Legion Provincial President To Be Guest Speaker
One of the interesting features of the Veterans' turkey banquet to be held at King United church Nov. 12, under the auspices of Canadian Legion 438 Ladies' Auxiliary, King, will be the presence of Mr. T. A. M. Hulise of Aurora, provincial president of the Legion Command. It is the second annual banquet, planned by the auxiliary for all veterans and their companions, which will be followed by an entertainment and dance in McDonald and Wells' hall. Mr. D. M. Findlay, president of the King branch, will be master of ceremonies.

The Winter Season for the King Legion Auxiliary

will commence on Wednesday, Nov. 14, in King Masonic hall.

A fairly good crowd attended the first dance in Maple community hall, sponsored by King Legion Branch 438. On Friday, Nov. 16, the organization will hold the second in a series of such events in Maple hall.

Outstanding Film, Nov. 11, At All Saints' Church

A service will be held at All Saints' Anglican church next Sunday, Nov. 11, at 7 p.m., after which a film, "God of Creation," will be shown in the parish room. It is a sound picture in natural color. Refreshments will be served.

Teston United Church Anniversary Nov. 11

The 79th anniversary of Teston United church will be observed on Sunday, Nov. 11. At the morning service, 11 o'clock, the minister, Rev. M. R. Jenkinson of King, will preach, and the church choir will sing. In the evening at 7.30, Rev. Dr. Archer Wallace of Maple will be guest preacher. A girls' choir from Toronto will furnish sacred music. King and Laskay services will be withdrawn on that day.

Dedication of New Organ

The dedication of a new electronic organ will take place at one of the services. It is a Minshall instrument, having one keyboard and 12 footnotes in the bass. Only $300 remains to complete the organ fund, which was commenced last August. Personal contributions, proceeds from special events, and $50 raised by Mrs. E. Warner from the sale of Christmas cards, brought in $1,222. On Wednesday night, Nov. 14, a variety entertainment will be held in the church.

ROBS MANSE OF GIFT MONIES

Loot King, District Homes By Night

A series of house break-ins which have occurred during the past month or so at Nobleton, King, Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox lead police to believe that theft of money is the sole objective of one person who works after dark in the early part of the evening in homes where occupants are away. Apparently no attempts have been made late at night when families are likely to be in bed.

Almost the same pattern is followed in each instance. The burglar enters through a bedroom window, searches dresser drawers, cedar chests and beds, peeks into covered cash might be kept. Leaving the window open, the robber takes what money he can find, and flees via the door. At the home of Harry Hutchinson, Oak Ridges, the visitor stood on greater ceremony, closing the front door after him, which locked of itself.

King Manse Robbed
From the United church manse at King a sum of $220, most of which was gift money belonging to Mrs. M. R. Jenkinson, was stolen Thursday evening of last week. A new wool sweater, worn once by Rev. Jenkinson, was also removed by a thief who used the manse extension ladder to break through an upstairs window. He had taken off the outside storm window, carried it down the ladder and laid it intact on the back lawn. A bar was used to force up the locked window.

The cash was found in two places in the bedrooms. All but $40 was money which had been received from weddings and other gift sources. Everything had been gone through upstairs and scattered about the floor. Mr. Jenkinson's filing cabinet had been thoroughly examined. Apparently the back door was found open by members of the Scout and Cub committee who had come to ready a collection of waste paper in the garage. Thinking Mr. Jenkinson had left the door unlocked so that an electric extension could be strung out to the garage, no suspicion was aroused at the time. The committee was there from 8 until 9.30. The Jenkinson's arrived home at eleven o'clock to find disorder upstairs. The inside front vestibule door had been locked on the inside and the cellar window had been forced open. An old iron bar used to open the bedroom window was found lying on the ground.

When Charlie Gordon and his wife arrived home at 8.30 the same evening, they found an open east window and the front door wide open. Nothing was touched in the house. They thought the burglarly was stopped when they drove their car in the driveway, or perhaps the intruder was frightened away by other sounds.

The home of Elwood Ash, Lake Wilcox, was entered some time before 9.30 Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Ash returned home at that time to find the bungalow pretty much upset. Seven dollars was taken from a wallet in a dresser drawer. The lid of a cedar chest was broken open, a bed had been searched and the pillows shaken up. Valuable jewellery and furs were left untouched but the lid was off a cookie jar in the kitchen. A thorough search had been made in the bedrooms by the thief. Earl Dalton's house at Lake Wilcox was entered. A door had been forced open but the presence of a dog on the premises apparently thwarted the attempted robbery.

At Oak Ridges, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rickward came home late in the same evening to find a bedroom window up, and the same pattern of disorder in the bedrooms. He lost from $6 to $9 in 50c pieces. The robber left the front door open when he made his get-away. At the home of Harry Hutchinson, Oak Ridges, discovery of a break-in was made about 2.30 a.m. on Sunday morning. A bedroom window on the first floor was raised and the screen had been broken. Bed clothing was turned back and a mattress had been searched. Mrs. Hutchinson had lost a small jar containing $8 in coins which she had been saving for Christmas.

A gold pin flashlight had been removed from a case containing pen and pencil set, etc., belonging to Harold Jr. Their daughter's room had not been touched. "When we got home that night, the house seemed very cold, although the furnace could have supplied heat overnight. It was the open window that created the draught that met us when we opened the door," she related. "A stray silk stocking on the upstairs steps made us believe the thief had gone up there also. One thing in his favor was the fact that he closed the outside door when he left the place; otherwise the house would have been terribly cold by the time we got home," Mrs. Hutchinson said.

Constable Frank Moore, Aurora O.P.P., says he is advising people to leave house lights on when they are away from home. P.C. Charles Case, Aurora, says the guilty person or persons will make one mistake that will lead to an arrest. Apparently the amount of money stolen from dwellings does not figure in the mind of the industrious cash-receiver. It has ranged all the way from $220 to $40, down to $7.00.
